Kennedy Tells Congress Natural Resources Plan

Air Engineer Strike Ends

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President John F. Kennedy today announced end of the six-day-old engineers strike and forecast that passenger traffic would be resumed tonight. Kennedy told reporters that the engineers union, the airlines pilots union and five major airlines have agreed to a plan advanced by Labor Secretary Arthur J. Goldberg.

It called for resuming operations while a presidential commission investigates the dispute between the engineers and the carriers.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The latest deadline for settlement of the flight engineers' airline strike passed today with no immediate sign of an agreement.

Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg arranged a two-hour delay in the hope that by that time Western Air Lines could be brought into the lineup. Western was the last holdout and the engineers' union, whose walkout has caused the tightest air traffic snarl in history, was adamantly refusing to go without the Pacific Coast operator.

The labor secretary had a date at the new deadline to report to President John F. Kennedy on settlement efforts.

But an hour after that time he still had not left the Labor Department, a fact that led to speculation on a late hitch in the program.

The agreement on more time for negotiations was announced by White House press secretary Pierre Salinger a few minutes before a previously agreed deadline—noon EST today.

All the struck airlines except Western, a Pacific coast operator, had agreed to temporary settlement terms.

The engineers union was standing pat on a refusal to enter an agreement unless Western went along.

The other affected carriers had said they would pull out of the settlement unless the men were ready to go back to work at noon.

Assails Predecessor On Flood Projects

WASHINGTON (AP)—President John F. Kennedy today sent Congress a program for a vast development of America's natural resources, and he asserted the Eisenhower administration policy took a heavy toll of lives "by postponing essential flood control projects."

In a special message, the president set forth plans for both immediate and long range dealing with a host of problems in the field of resources. He said: "If we fail to use these blessings prudently, we will be in trouble in a short time."

Kennedy placed no price tag on his far-reaching program which, among other things, envisages development of economically competitive nuclear power within 10 years to replace or supplement power from conventional fuels in areas where such fuel is expensive.

Administration officials said they won't be able to estimate the added cost of the over-all Kennedy program over present levels of resources spending until studies by the Budget Bureau and other federal agencies have been completed.

Specific recommendations by the president include doubling spending on research aimed at making salty ocean water suitable for use in the home and by industry. The administration said this would hike the outlay to 10 million dollars a year.

The Kennedy program dealt with water resources generally and the prospect for doubled consumption — to 600 billion gallons daily by 1980; big scale expansion of electric power; forest conservation; exploration of the oceans for oil, gas

President Urges Speed On Parks

President John F. Kennedy today urged congressional speed on national seashore recreation areas such as that proposed on Marin's Point Reyes Peninsula.

His remark, included in his special message to Congress on natural resources, brought immediate word from Rep. Clement W. Miller (D-Corte Madera) and Sen. Clair Engle (D-Calif.) that they are "urging all possible speed" in obtaining hearings on bills to establish the Point Reyes National Seashore which they introduced in the two houses of Congress in January.

The president urged Congress to authorize seashore and shoreline public recreational facilities "in such areas as Point Reyes, Calif.; Cape Cod, Mass., and Padre Island, Tex."

"Unnecessary delay in acquiring these shores so vital to an adequate recreation system results in tremendously increased costs," the president said.

In a joint statement immediately after Kennedy's address, Miller and Engle said they were "extremely gratified as authors of the Point Reyes Seashore bills now in Congress" and announced:

"We have already urged the chairman of the House and Senate interior committees to schedule hearings on the bills as soon as possible."

Kennedy, in his address, estimated the need for outdoor recreation areas in the United States would triple by the end of the century.

The bills introduced by Miller and Engle call for taking 53,000 acres of the Point Reyes Peninsula for the seashore area.

Bryan McCarthy, attorney for the West Marin Property Owners Assn., commenting on the president's endorsement of such a national seashore area, today called attention that this "in addition to the land now off the tax rolls in state parks and water districts, would bring the total land tax-free in Marin County to 32 per cent of the county's area."

McCarthy said this "can possibly have a dire effect on the tax structure" besides being "a crippling blow to the dairy industry," since most of Marin's dairy farms are in the Point Reyes area.

The West Marin Property Owners Assn has urged that a smaller acreage if any be taken for public park use.

Stiffer Dope Penalty Voted By Assembly

COMBINED AP & UPI

SACRAMENTO—The Assembly today voted stiffer penalties and tighter court procedures for narcotics users and peddlers.

The measures, by Assemblyman Clayton A. Dills (D-Gardena) were passed on roll call votes and now go to the Senate, where similar bills died two years ago.

The first bill, approved 69-11, provides two to 10-year sentences for drug possession, and five to 20 years for possession with a prior conviction. Peddlers would get five years to life on first offense, 10 to life for a second conviction and 15 years to life if there are more than two prior convictions.

The second measure, passed 54-25 after an angry debate, takes away the judges' discretionary power to set sentences, rules out probation by trial courts and removes county jail terms as alternative to state prison sentences in many cases.

Marin-Sonoma Assemblyman William T. Bagley voted for both measures.

4 More Persons Endangered At Shoreline Highway Cliffs

Dangerous cliffs south of Stinson Beach, where two young men were killed and three injured in an automobile crash, Monday, nearly took four more lives in two accidents yesterday afternoon.

Three 18-year-old San Francisco high school youths skidded off the Shoreline Highway in a car with locked wheels and somersaulted 175 feet down the cliff about 4 p.m.

Three hours earlier, Oakland carpenter Willard O. Baker, 56, slipped while descending the cliffs to fish and suffered a sprained left hip when he hits rocks at the cliff base.

Sheriff's Deputy Ray von Savoye and Rangers Lorin Forsythe and Bruce Emerson of Stinson Beach State Park hauled Baker up the cliff, using a basket stretcher and ropes. The victim was treated at Marin General Hospital.

While Deputy von Savoye was helping the fisherman, vandals took the officer's $52 jacket out of the patrol car, ripped off the patches, and trampled the uniform in mud. The ruined jacket was hanging on the spotlight when von Savoye returned to his car.

Then came the auto accident involving three San Francisco high school students.

The scene is 1.3 miles south of Stinson Beach, a matter of yards from where two Navy nuclear power students were killed Monday and three hurt in a similar plunge 450 feet off the highway.

John Kelsy Pearce, the driver, was treated at Marin General Hospital for bruises on the was thrown from the car as left leg. Thomas F. Smith, who it rolled down the hill, was treated at the same hospital for bruises on the left leg. Thomas F. Smith, who was thrown from the car as it rolled down the hill, was treated at the same hospital for bruises and scratches on forehead, arms, legs and right thigh. The third occupant, Paul Silva, said he was hurt but left without medical treatment.

The area is one of continuous sharp curves along the cliff.

Patrol measurement of marks on the roadway showed that after entering an S curve, similar to that which figured in the Monday night crash nearby, Pearce's car skidded for 139 feet with all four wheels locked before going over the road edge.

The youths said they had been due home in San Francisco at 3 p.m. and were hurrying at around 4 p.m. None had noted the speedometer and none would even estimate the speed. Pearce said he struck a soft shoulder.

Smith, sitting with the driver, said he "saw the edge of the road coming up awful fast as we were going straight to it" and braced himself without speaking. But he heard Silva in the back shout, "Oh, no! Here we go again!" Silva, the patrol said, was in another accident recently.

The car apparently rolled several times. It was wedged between heavy boulders 175 feet below the west shoulder of the road when it stopped.

Deputy von Savoye said loose gravel on the highway may be partially to blame for the auto mishaps.

Old Mansion On Market— May Be Razed

By RANDALL GOULD

Another of San Rafael's oldest and finest mansions is on the market—and perhaps headed for demolishing to make way for subdivision.

It was built at 201 Locust Avenue in 1875 by the late William Lichtenberg.

Just short of her 80th birthday next fall, the last surviving Lichtenberg daughter — Mrs. Harry Disbrow Johnson—expects to leave, hoping that her lifelong home will fall into kind hands.

"If it has to be torn down I don't want to be around to see it," she says.

The death last year at the age of 92 of her sister Anna (Mrs. Alfred W. Dubois) freed Mrs. Johnson from what she felt to be an obligation to keep the 18-room, three-story structure going as a family home.

Mrs. Dubois had deeply loved the old home, in which she had lived since soon after the family arrival from other lands in 1873, when Anna was five.

"I love it so, but it is just too much for us to keep up," says Mrs. Johnson.

Her late husband was a grandson of J. M. Studebaker, one of five brothers who established the Studebaker Corp. This caused the Johnsons to spend 10 years in South Bend, Ind., where Johnson was chief engineer of the automobile firm at the time of his death in 1916. Aside from that decade, Mrs. Johnson has lived in the Locust Avenue house virtually all her life.

The two and one-half-acre property was bought from William T. Coleman, San Rafael pioneer, who had operated it as a hog ranch. One great bay tree still remains from the days before the mansion was built.

Initially it wasn't so large, but in the 1880s it was split and vast new areas were inserted.

These included the present dining hall, a living room, a tower and upstairs bedrooms.

One of the most striking interior features is the two-story entrance hall, a huge space of polished redwood in a grand tradition understandable in the background of the builder who was born in Hanover, Germany, and later had rice plantations in Java where he was Hanoverian consul.

A feature of the hall and the winding stairway leading up out of it is the considerable area of stained glass in windows. Its floor and that of the dining room are of parquet left

MAN WITH PLENTY OF AUTHORITY

Alfred H. Newman, school crossing guard at Freitas Parkway and Las Gallinas Avenue in Terra Linda, wears his latest badge of authority: A purple arm band of the Terra Linda Community Services District around the dark blue sleeve of his uniform, which was given him today. Terra Linda anti-annexationists became perturbed and provided the arm bands because Newman was wearing cap and badge identifying him as a special San Rafael police officer. San Rafael and the services district each pay half his crossing guard wage. (Independent-Journal photo)

McNamara Asserts Arsenal Needed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara declared today that dangerous uncertainties in the world demand that the United States maintain a weapons arsenal capable of launching decisive counterblows after surviving a massive nuclear attack.

He said that this is the prime conclusion from a preliminary study in connection with the overall reappraisal of national strategy and military power ordered by President John F. Kennedy.

McNamara spoke to the House Armed Services Committee.

PLANE HITS WATER—A twin-engine Navy Convair carrying Undersecretary of the Navy Paul B. New Navy Aide Safe As Plane Hits Channel

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—A disabled plane carrying Paul B. Fay Jr. to Washington to be sworn in as undersecretary of the Navy ran off the end of the runway at the municipal airport early today and plunged into a deepwater ship channel.

None of the eight persons on board the U.S. Navy twin-engine Convair was seriously injured. The New York to Washington flight was carrying Fay; his wife, Anita; their 4-year-old daughter, Sally; an aide, and a crew of four. (Mrs. Fay is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Marcus of Mill Valley.)

Fay was in New York yesterday to inspect the burned-out aircraft carrier Constellation at the Brooklyn Navy Yard and to inspect the Third Navy District.

The Convair left New York for Andrews Air Force Base, Md., but fog and rain prevented a landing there.

While the pilot was looking for a place to set down somewhere in Maryland or Deleware, the plane's electrical system failed.

Pilot Harry Patterson said Atlantic City's 3,000-foot long runway would have been long enough for the landing under normal conditions, but because of the power failure he could not reverse the propellors to slow the plane down.

The Convair plunged into the water 45 feet off Bader Field. It floated for five minutes, then sank halfway into the channel.

Ten minutes later, a police launch rescued the eight and took them to Atlantic City Hospital.

The aide, Cmdr. William A. Golden of Falls Church, Va., suffered a broken left ankle. The others were released.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Twarn't Nothin'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Durwood G. Hall (R-Mo.) yesterday opened an envelope addressed to him and bearing a return address of the internal revenue service, Kansas City and there was nothing inside.

Hall wrote the Kansas City IRS office: "I am enclosing a letter that your office sent me. The envelope contained nothing. I am returning it in case you want to try again."

N.Y. Times Study

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Times is studying the possibility of establishing a West Coast edition.

Representatives of the newspaper are now on the West Coast making the study, the Times announced yesterday.

Arthur Hays Sulzberger, publisher and chairman of the board, said that a West Coast edition would not be an attempt to compete with local newspapers in covering local news. The edition would supplement the local papers and, as in the Times' Europe, an edition would present the news as reported in the Times in New York on the same day.

More Land For U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. government increased its land holdings by 400,000 acres in the year that ended last June 30. The total then was 772 million acres.

The General Services Administration reported yesterday that these total holdings originally cost 52.6 billion dollars.

They include 77.15 million acres in the United States, or 33.9 per cent of the nation's total land area.

French Admiral Dies

PARIS (UPI)—Adm. Philippe Auboyneau, 61, commander of all free French naval forces in World War II, died yesterday.

Auboyneau was an early supporter of Gen. Charles de Gaulle and later was active in bringing de Gaulle back into power in 1958 to head the Fifth Republic. Until last November he had commanded the French naval forces in the Mediterranean.

Flood Danger

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The soggy Southland braced today for its seventh straight rainy day and took hope from a hint that the worst of the rain is over.

But even if the rains end Friday, and that's not certain, floodin gfrom overloaded streams created new problems.

Property damage from high water and tornadoes continued to mount and the number of deaths rose to five early today when two children drowned as a boat evacuating them from a flooded area in Mississippi, capsized.

Life For Subs

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Nuclear submarines which will never need refueling may be built soon, says Capt. William R. Anderson, former skipper of the nuclear sub Nautilus.

Anderson, who took the Nautilus on its historic trip under the North Pole, gave an interview yesterday.

"The Nautilus could go 60,000 miles on its first load of fuel," he said. "Before long it will be possible to build a reactor that will not need refueling for the entire life of the ships—maybe 25 years."

Tokyo Chief Quits

TOKYO (AP) — Tokyo's police chief, Ken Ogura, resigned today. He had been under fire because of an upsurge of ultrarightist terrorism.

Ogura had been police chief for two and a half years. The National Public Safety Commission accepted his resignation and sent it to the cabinet for approval.

Hits Laos Proposal

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP)—Cambodia today rejected Laotian King Savang Vathana's proposal for a Cambodian-Burmese-Malayan commission to help end the civil war in Laos.

The Cambodian statement—which appeared to doom the king's proposal — said Price Norodom Sihanouk's government did not think the suggested commission could control foreign intervention without cooperation from the pro-Communist forces controlling eastern Laos.

Air Victims Identified

BRUSSELS —All 73 victims of the Sabena World Airlines crash near Brussels have been identified, police sources announced today. Federal Bureau of Identification specialists flew here with fingerprints, dental charts and other data on the 49 Americans killed in the crash.

MICHAEL J. MURPHY

Head Of Police 'Quits' Job In New York City

NEW YORK (UPI) — New York's police commissioner heatedly refused to accept reappointment today in an angry furor with the mayor over problems that plague practically every police force in the nation—pay and discipline.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner immediately named Chief Inspector Michael J. Murphy, 47, as head of the 24,000-man force to succeed Stephen P. Kennedy after Kennedy declined a second five-year term in a militant post-midnight news conference.

The bitter exchange between the two old friends, Kennedy and Wagner, came as a climax to a dispute when the mayor announced that Kennedy would be renamed to the $25,000 a year post.

Kennedy then laid down his terms to the boss for continuing in the job. He said he wanted assurances that the mayor would back a move to give policemen pay increases amounting to $600 a year more than firemen and would support his ban on moonlighting, a practice in which police take jobs on their off hours.

STRIKE DOESN'T STOP HIM

New Yorker Flies Home From L.A. Via Denmark

NEW YORK (UPI)—George Neuwirth made one of the longest detours in history to get to an important business conference today.

Sidestepping the flight engineers strike that has crippled six U. S. passenger airlines, Neuwirth got easy connections for a flight from Los Angeles to New York—via Copenhagen, Denmark.

It was a journey about halfway around the world in a little under 48 hours.

"I was determined to get home tonight by hook or crook," the export company executive grinned as he stepped off a plane at the end of the line last night.

"And I got home by crook."

Neuwirth, president of the Geon Export Co. of New York, was stranded in Los Angeles when the wildcat flight engineers walkout began Friday night. He had to get back to New York today for "an important business meeting."

Neuwirth stopped off in Greenland ("just long enough to get a cup of coffee") then landed in Copenhagen. He took a quick taxicab sightseeing tour of the Danish capital and took off again for the U. S.

"I'm paying 700 bucks instead of $142," he said, "but so what? "When I want to reach New York, nothing stops me."

Twin Cities Pony Signups Slated

Twin Cities Boys Club's Pony League baseball signups will be held Saturday and again on March 4, it was announced today.

Boys may register at the Corte Madera fire house from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. on either of those days. Each boy must be accompanied by a parent and must present a birth certificate.

Kennedy Bows To Swiss, Won't Appoint Diplomat

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President John F. Kennedy, bowing to Swiss pressure, has decided not to appoint Earl E. T. Smith to be U.S. ambassador to Switzerland.

The president announced last night that he had agreed with "real regret" to withdraw the selection after Smith asked him to do so.

The Swiss were disgruntled over Smith's appointment because he was the Eisenhower administration's ambassador to Cuba in the last days of the Batista regime, and has made no secret of his aversion to the Castro revolutionary government.

The Swiss have been representing U. S. interests in Cuba since the U. S. broke off diplomatic relations with Castro, and they felt Smith's presence in their country might compromise their work for the U. S. in Havana.

The officiay Swiss radio said over the weekend that there was a "lack of sympathy" toward Smith in Bern, the capital.

Smith said in Palm Beach, Fla., that he was asking the president to drop his appointment—which had never been sent to the Senate for confirmation—because "of the controversy that has been stimulated."

It was understood that the Swiss had agreed to accept Smith if Kennedy insisted, and until yesterday every indication at the White House seemed Kennedy was holding firm.

N.Y. Doctor Group Sets Up Union

NEW YORK (AP)—Physicians and dentists in the city health department have set up a union, believed to be the first such organization for such professions in the United States.

With a membership of 1,000, the group—known as the Doctors Assn. of New York—holds its first meeting tonight.

Announced objectives are salary increases, tenure and pension rights.

Dr. Robert M. Robbins, a supervisor of city school physicians and president of the organization, said the American Medical Assn. has neither approved nor disapproved of the union. But the AMA, he said, does not interfere in organizations for salaried persons.

Health Department physicians and dentists receive $5 an hour for sessions of three hours. Robbins said a $10-an-hour fee for a three-hour session is being considered by union members.

A PANORAMA OF OTHER DAYS—Still eminently liveable but "too hard for me to keep up any more" is the old William Lichtenberg mansion, about to be reluctantly surrendered by Lichtenberg's last surviving daughter, Mrs. Harry Disbrow Johnson. Picture at left shows how contemporary furniture has been blended into the nearly century-old structure. Valuable chandeliers such as may be seen in the center photo are to be found in various parts of the home. Mrs. Johnson is seated before the fireplace of the two-story entrance hall, where polished redwood glistens in light through stained glass windows. (Independent-Journal photos)

over from construction of the Palace Hotel in San Francisco.

Much priceless furniture is to be seen and there are many chandeliers, some of glass in antique tradition. A bookcase was once the property of John Jay, first chief justice of the U.S. Supreme Court, an ancestor of Mrs. Dubois's husband.

Some things will go with the house but there is much accumulation of the years which is being parceled out to charitable enterprises. As an example of the problems faced, Mrs. Johnson mentioned that in the attic (five rooms in itself) there are 24 trunks, "all filled."

Although Mrs. Johnson has four children and 12 grandchildren it seems admitted by all concerned that neither the big house nor the many treasures of old days are in keeping with modern life. So the process of dispersal goes on.

Stanford Rumor For Nixon Denied

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Reports that former Vice President Richard M. Nixon may become president or chancellor of Stanford University have met a quick and firm denial.

Thomas P. Pike of San Marino, chairman of the Stanford board of trustees, said yesterday from his home at Saratoga near San Francisco:

"There has been no conversation on this and I would be the first to know if discussions took place."

JET ALREADY DAMAGED AT PLAYGROUND

The demilitarized jet fighter which Hamilton Air Force gave to Novato yesterday morning was damaged by evening.

A Novato youngster reported to police, who investigated to find that the strut supporting the tail had been broken away from the plane. A cowling over one of the landing gears also had been broken.

The plane is on the Marion School grounds for youngsters to play on.

Measure Aimed At Drivers Who Suffer Strokes

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—A bill to stop accidents caused by drivers who suffers strokes won approval yesterday from the Assembly Public Health Committee.

Assemblyman Frank Luckel (R-San Diego) proposed the measure which would require drivers license applicants to say if they suffered from paralytic apoplexy, or strokes.

It now goes to the Assembly floor for debate.

Luckel said some fatal accidents have been caused by drivers who suffered strokes at the wheel.

Burglar Frightened Off From Lunch, Gets $200

A burglar took $200 in 50-cent pieces from a Sausalito attorney's home last night but left a stolen wardrobe on the kitchen floor when he was frightened off while cooking a late lunch.

Robert J. White returned home to 10 Crecienta Lane at 9:35 p.m. to find the house in disorder, as though it had been ransacked. A frying pan, warm, was on the kitchen stove. Set out beside it were eggs, butter and English muffins.

And on the kitchen floor was White's suitcase, containing five of his suits, two shirts and underwear.

White made a quick search and discovered a piggy bank, which contained the 50-cent pieces, was gone.

Sausalito police later found the bank outside, empty. They also found White's clarinet case in the yard—but the clarinet was in the house. They also found a putty knife which they figured had been used to open the bank.

Wiley Smith, San Francisco Examiner cartoonist, also reported an apparent burglary at his home at 15 Toyon Lane, Sausalito.

Smith said he and his wife arrived home at 7 p.m. to find balcony chairs out of place. Then they heard footsteps on the balcony and saw a man walking down the driveway. Smith shouted at the man and was told he was "taking a shortcut." Nothing was missing, Smith said.

Tour Office Opens International Room

Budds Travel and Tours at 816 D Street, San Rafael, has opened an "international room" in the agency's first birthday month.

Co-owner Gordeon (Bud) Iseman of 493 East Blithedale Avenue, Mill Valley, said the new room is for private consultation on planning tours. It contains a 13-by-8-foot map of the world which completely covers one wall.

Fire In Fireman's Car Extinguished

Fire broke out yesterday in the wiring of the automobile of Carl H. Modell, Homestead Valley fire commissioner.

Mrs. Modell found smoke emerging as she started the car to take son Larry, 8, and daughter Hilary, 9, to their music lessons at 10:25 a.m. from their home at 403 Laverne Avenue.

Modell wasn't there. He was practicing with the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra.

Homestead firemen promptly put out the blaze.

Larkspur Council Plan To Discuss Policy On Slopes

Larkspur City Council will discuss the possible incorporation of a slope policy in its zoning ordinance at 8 p.m. today in city hall.

Councilmen became concerned recently over the lack of such a policy when they discussed the proposed Madrone Woodlands development.

The developers plan 7,500-square-foot lots, the minimum now permitted under the subdivision and zoning ordinances. Councilmen said they felt larger lots should be required on sloping terrain.

The council also will decide on what will be the topic for its forum-type meeting March 22. Councilman James T. Lienkaemper, who broached the idea of such meetings, will be in charge of the first one.

Taxi Fare Puts Up Unfair Competition—Goes To Cooler

The patron paid the fare, but he took the keys, cab driver Peter Storvold complained to the San Rafael police yesterday.

Storvold, driver for Yellow Cab Co., hauled Daniel Peter Van Tiel, 34-year-old laborer, from 820 Fourth Street to Van Tiel's home at 110 Laurel Place, San Rafael, about 5 p.m.

When they arrived, he said, Van Tiel paid the fare, then snatched the keys, ran upstairs to his apartment and locked the door.

Storvold hammered on the door and pleaded, with no result. Then he called police.

Lt. Jay Fletcher and Officer Wade R. Powell finally persuaded Van Tiel to open the door. They found the keys on the mantle. But then, said Fletcher, Van Tiel invited them to stay and fight.

Figuring one lockup deserves another, the officers instead took Van Tiel to jail, charging him with drunkenness and disturbing the peace. Bailed out for $105, he is to be arraigned in municipal court at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow.

'THE PRODIGAL'

Mill Valley Physician Will Direct Drama

Dr. Earle Marsh, Mill Valley resident and San Francisco physician, author and clinical professor, is directing the Bay Area premier of "The Prodigal," which will open at the San Francisco Conservatory of Music Saturday.

Dr. Marsh has directed productions for the Mill Valley Community Theater, Sausalito Little Theater and Tiburon Playhouse. He recently joined George Hitchcock's newly formed company, Comus, which offers "The Prodigal" as the first of three productions to be presented this year.

"The Prodigal" projects into modern terms the legend of Orestes, whose idealism and quest for the "good quiet life" is challenged by the self-righteous world around him demanding vengeance for the murder of his father. The cast includes George Hitchcock, Leon Roegiers, Frank Smith, Ethel Sokolow, Thelma Gilland, and Eva Hitchcock.

The drama will be presented at the conservatory at 19th and Ortega Streets for six succeeding Saturdays.

Dominican Slates 'Twelfth Night'

Students of Dominican Upper School will present Shakespeare's comedy, "Twelfth Night," Sunday at 2:30 p.m. in Angelico Hall on the Dominican College campus in San Rafael.

There will be no admission charge.

Members of the cast are Brooke Skinner, Lustre Robinson, Stephanie Burns, Carol Burns, Nora Baird, Sondra Hodgson, Susan Buresh, Patricia Vest, Marianne Matsinger, Marilyn Wilson and Aurelie Shanley.

Charlotte Wax of Sausalito is in charge of set design and Gretta Tozier of San Rafael is the choreographer. Ann Brebner of Sausalito is the director.

The play is a joint project of the school's drama, art and ballet classes.

COLLECTOR'S ITEMS — Charles G. Ellicott, retired Army major of 347 Hyacinth Way, Terra Linda, holds a bound volume of Civil War mementos, given him by his father, as he sits beneath his grandfather's commission as a first lieutenant in the Marine Corps personally signed by Abraham Lincoln. The photograph at which Elliott is looking is that of the armored cruiser Maryland, on which his father served. (Independent - Journal photo)

Terra Linda Man Played In White House As Boy

By CARLETON WILLIAMS

Charles G. Elliott is a man well supplied with both memories and memorabilia.

The memories date back to his childhood in Washington, D.C., when, as a schoolmate of President Theodore Roosevelt's son, Archie, he played in the White House rooms and gardens. The memorabilia date back to the Civil War.

Tangible mementoes of a life which includes flying during World War I, attendance at Annapolis and duty with the Army from Alaska to Vienna, are in evidence all over his home at 347 Hyacinth Way in Terra Linda.

They take in a wide variety of material from a mirror from the boudoir of Marie Antoinette to letters from mothers to sons on Civil War battlefields.

Ellicott's most prized possession is a framed commission, certifying his grandfather, Charles F. Williams, as a First Lieutenant in the Marine Corps. The document is dated 1864 and bears original signatures of President Abraham Lincoln and Secretary of Navy Gideon Welles.

Another irreplacable collector's item is a large bound scrapbook, compiled from about 1835 through the turn of the century by G. Norton Galloway, historian of the Sixth Army Corps.

The volume was purchased at auction by Elliott's father, Col. Charles F. Williams, around 1910. The price of the volume, the value of which today Ellicott will not hazard a guess, was $3.

Included in the dog-eared volume are newspaper clippings, advertisements, letters, canceled stamps, political cartoons, dance programs and what-have-you.

A vaudeville poster, announcing the week's acts at the Fox New American Theater in Philadelphia, lists such stirring drama as "Murphy and Fletcher in a new act entitled, 'Two Lovers',"; Lillian Forrest, "queen of serio-comics," and a smash hit, concluding the evening, entitled "The Guerilla Chief," or "The Seige of Atlanta."

Newspaper ads offer sheet music (at 30 cents per tune) listing such favorites of the day "For the Dear Old Flag I Die," "Wilt Thou Be True?" "The Dying Drummer," "Weep No More for Lilly," and "Dear One, I Think of Thee."

A testimonial, from no less a personage than Maj. Gen. Ambrose Everett Burnside, for whom the haircut style was named, thanks the manufacturer of a smoking case for "a most useful and beautiful present."

Photographs of emaciated prisoners from Andersonville, the Confederate prison camp in Georgia, are alongside yellowed letters to soldiers from relatives, one of which opens:

"My Dear Child . . . I was down in the dining room just now when your letter came to me . . . I was so in hopes to hear that you were coming home, but as you cannot come, I am thankful to hear that you are not suffering . . ."

"I have always been a keen collector," Ellicott said, adding a note of regret that his two sons, John Glendower, 18, and Roderick, 16, do not share his enthusiasm for musty memories.

His wife, a talented musician who plays the organ at Rickey's Rancho Rafael under the name Jean Denning, finds at times that the collecting business can be trying.

Especially on moving day.

Recession Hits Labor Unions As Dues Drop

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The business recession is hitting hard at organized labor's own management operations. A drop of about one million dues-paying members has forced the AFL-CIO to retrench.

Federation leaders said privately today that, like many businessmen, they are going to have to adopt economies and get more revenue to keep their big labor organization out of the red.

NO REGULAR DUES

Lagging employment has reduced AFL-CIO dues paying membership from about 13.5 million to about 12.5 million, it was said. Members out of work don't pay regular dues.

Also, while dues revenue has been declining, union expenses have been increasing.

The retrenchment program is expected to result in some layoffs on the AFL-CIO headquarters staff in Washington as well as a tighter rein on donations to various causes which have been running to more than one million dollars each year.

The AFL-CIO Executive Council also was expected to levy a temporary special assessment of 2 cents per member on affiliated unions in order to counter a general fund deficit that has climbed to about $700,000 in the past eight months.

INCREASE EXPECTED

The temporary additional dues payment, amounting to about two million dollars, would continue until the AFL-CIO holds its next convention here in December when a permanent dues increase is expected to be proposed.

The federation's economic policy committee, headed by the United Auto Workers Union president, Walter Reuther, issued a study yesterday saying that President John F. Kennedy's recovery program, even when put into effect, won't stop rising unemployment.

The study said that if Kennedy would adopt an AFL-CIO suggestion for a quick, temporary five-billion-dollar income tax cut along with his other proposals, the way would be clear for resumption of full employment and production.

News Source Law Bill Is Approved

SACRAMENTO (AP) — All kinds of journalists, except those who work for magazines, should have the right to refuse disclosure of confidential news sources, an Assembly committee has decided.

The Judiciary Committee yesterday approved a bill to add radio, TV and wire service reporters to the present law which covers newspaper reporters only.

Magazine reporters were excluded in a move aimed at so-called scandal magazines.

GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY—Mr. and Mrs. Oscar R. Presco of San Anselmo cut a slice of cake at the celebration of their 50th wedding anniversary. The couple eloped to San Rafael in 1911.

'GIVE AND TAKE'

San Anselmo Couple Married 50 Years

Marriage? "It's a give and take proposition," declared Mrs. Oscar R. Presco of 50 Bella Vista Avenue, San Anselmo yesterday.

The Prescoes celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on Feb. 11. More than 130 friends and relatives staged a surprise reception and dinner for the couple at the Claremont Hotel in Berkeley.

Oscar Presco, a retired general contractor, and his wife, Maude, have lived in San Anselmo for almost a year. Previously they lived for 22 years on the San Rafael Canal.

Both were residents of San Francisco in 1911 when they eloped and traveled to San Rafael where they were married by a judge.

"We just didn't want a big wedding. That's why we eloped," Mrs. Presco said.

They lived in San Francisco until 1938, when they moved to a summer cottage on the San Rafael Canal. They have three sons, Donald of San Rafael, and Robert and Stanley, both of Alameda.

College Trustees Due Report On Master Plan, Space Survey

College of Marin trustees will hear a progress report on the work of architects Falk and Booth at 8 p.m. today in the college Art Building.

The architects were hired to draw up a master plan for the college, and are at work on a space adequacy survey.

The trustees also may get a more complete report from the architects on what must be done to bring the college gymnasium up to minimum fire safety standards. Theodore Stolte, an associate of the architects, gave a $25,000 preliminary estimate on the cost of remodeling the gymnasium basement at the last meeting, and promised a fuller report tonight.

The board also will hear a report from Irwin Diamond, dean of students, on fall 1960 students who did not return to the college this semester.

Lenten Bible Study Sessions Scheduled

The theme of the first meeting will be "Women Closely Associated With Christ." Baby sitting will be provided at the church.

Gas Prices Just George For A Day

A Washington's Birthday gasoline price special turned into a small-scale one-day "gas war" in San Rafael yesterday.

The service station of MAC Discount Store on Francisco Boulevard offered regular gasoline at 22 cents per gallon and ethyl at 25 cents as part of a Washington's Birthday sale at the store.

Promptly meeting the prices were the Shell Oil Co. station at Third and Irwin, Texaco Station at 601 Fourth Street, Gasoteria at Second and Lincoln, Regal Station at Fifth and Lincoln, and Wilshire stations in the neighborhood.

As the word got around, the rush of motorists to MAC to "gas up" grew so heavy that northbound cars were backed up along Francisco Boulevard from King Cotton to the MAC entrance and southbound cars were backed up all the way to the Third and Irwin Streets underpass, reported Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa.

The other price-cutting stations did a rush business too. Bill Arms, proprietor of the Texaco station, reported his business tripled.

Ben Harper at the Shell station remarked, "Everyone was patriotic. We did a tremendous business."

Prices were back up today to "normal": 32.9 cents per gallon for regular gasoline and 35.9 for ethyl, which is at par with most stations in San Francisco.

Tribal Chiefs Back Plan On N. Rhodesia

LUSAKA, Northern Rhodesia (AP) — African tribal chiefs today backed a British plan to give the Negroes of Northern Rhodesia more political freedom as the white minority threatened to demand independence to preserve white supremacy in the royal protectorate.

Sir Roy Welensky, prime minister of the Central African Federation that links Northern and Southern Rhodesia and Nyasaland was reported ready to call a general election asking for a mandate to break all ties with the crown.

Troops were held in readiness but fears of any immediate outburst of racial strife in Northern Rhodesia subsided after 25 tribal chiefs approved the proposed British reforms and appealed to the Africans to remain calm. But the chiefs —representing all the tribes in the territory—expressed grave concern at the troop mobilization ordered by Welensky after he rejected the proposed new constitution for Northern Rhodesia.

While still holding to the view that Africans should dominate the administrative council that governs Northern Rhodesia, the chiefs agreed to go along with the British plan as an interim measure offering some political advance for Africans.

White Group Roughs Up Negro Pastor

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—A Negro minister was roughed up but not seriously injured as white youths used force in attempting to break up theater stand-ins by Nashville Negro students.

The number of demonstrators seeking entrance to four downtown, all-white theaters grew to 120 last night as Negroes were joined by Chinese and Mexican boys and several white coeds.

This group was attacked by the white youths in the same manner as the previous night. The police had dispersed the mob of white youths, but they gathered again to beat and kick the demonstrators as they headed for a church meeting.

Three demonstrators were treated for minor injuries. The minister manhandled by the white boys was Rev. Metz Collins of the United Presbyterian Church.

Police made no arrests in either of the Nashville affrays.

San Rafael Election Filings Open Tomorrow

Tomorrow is the first day for filing nominations in the San Rafael municipal election.

The nomination period runs until March 10. Under the city charter, the signatures of at least 50 registered voters are required to nominate a candidate.

Verification deputies appointed by the city clerk for individual candidates, circulate the certificates for nomination.

Up for election April 10 will be the mayor, two city councilmen, and members of the board of education.

Terra Linda Tax Unit Head Lashes Foes Of Annexation

The Terra Linda Community Services District board's resolution opposing annexation to San Rafael was denounced as "extremely childish" by Anton T. Lonich, chairman of the Terra Linda Taxpayers League, at a meeting of the league at his home last night.

Members of the league met to discuss the services district board's action. Lonich said "the city (San Rafael) has given residents a wonderful opportunity to annex with no annexation fee."

Part-time services provided by the district would be replaced by fulltime services of city departments, including police and fire, in case of annexation, said Lonich.

VENUS IS VICIOUS

Trained Dogs Guard Coast Missile Base

TRAINED TO ATTACK — Venus, one of 22 sentry dogs which guard top-security areas at Vandenberg Air Force Base at night, is held on a leash by her handler, A/2c Bill Joyce of Seatle. The dogs respect their own handlers, but no one else can get near. (AP Wirephoto)

VANDENBURG AIR FORCE BASE (AP) — It may create a problem for young lovers, but residents on this West Coast missile base never go walking aimlessly at night.

It isn't healthy.

There are 22 reasons for this state of affairs and one of them, oddly enough, bears the name of the ancient goddess of love, Venus.

Venus is one of 22 sentry dogs who guard five top-security areas during the dark hours when human patrols are least effective.

These areas are so secret they are not posted. You could be walking along, getting a breath of fresh air before turning in, and all of a sudden lose an arm or a leg.

Since you don't know where these secret areas are, it's best to stick to the lighted streets.

That's one place you'll never see Venus, Wolfe, Thunderer, Lancer or any of the others who share a kennel with her in a remote section of this 64,000-acre base.

They're too vicious to be brought into populated areas.

Each of the dogs has a handler, an airman who volunteered for the job. Daily obedience drills teach them to respect their own handlers, but no one else can get near them.

Venus' handler is A/2c Bill Joyce, 21, of Seattle. At a recent demonstration Joyce showed he had taught Venus to walk backward on her hind legs, ride piggyback on his shoulders and sprint over an obstacle course.

He aslo showed what she would do if she met a saboteur.

A/2c Al Immell, 23, Milwaukee, appeared on the scene wearing a suit of padded burlap. Unleashed, Venus hit him at full speed with all her 80 pounds of slashing fury.

Immell, a muscular 200-pounder, braced himself but was almost bowled over.

He kept his feet because he knew he had to. The suit weighs 60 pounds and is stiff as a board. Had he been knocked down he would have been unable to get up without assistance and his unshielded feet and head would have been vulnerable to Venus' slashing, crunching jaws.

The jaws of these beasts exert up to 1,000 pounds of pressure, five or six times the strength of human jaws.

It took something less than a minute for Joyce to pull Venus away but in those few seconds Immel's "attack suit" was tattered.

Without the suit, the least he would have lost was an arm.

Maj. James LaForge, who heads the dog sentry unit here, says the animals are trained to grab the nearest part of the anatomy. Usually this is an arm, thrown out to ward off the attack.

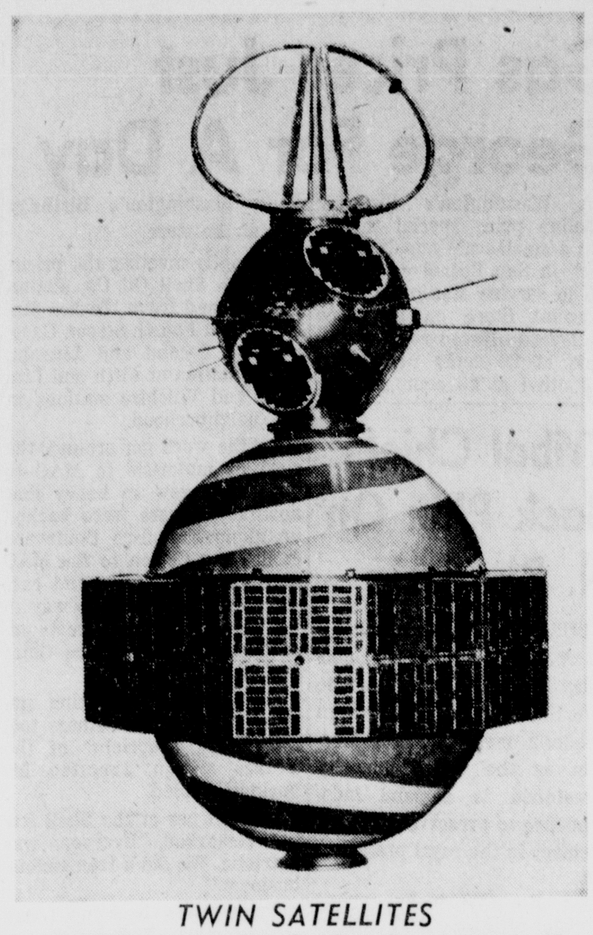
LaForge says these dogs can sense intruders at least 300 yards away in the darkness and some have been known to give an alarm at a distance of one mile.

So if you're thinking of snooping around Vandenberg some dark night, forget it.

If you should meet up with Venus some night through no fault of your own, however, LaForge has one word of advice:

Freeze.

"She probably wouldn't bother you if you stood still," he says. "Her function is to hold you until a human sentry arrives. But try to run away, or make a move toward the sentry, and you've had it."



TWIN SATELLITES

These twin satellites launched from Cape Canaveral, Fla., Tuesday, failed to work properly, although they went into orbit. Scientists said the satellite Transit III-B with the Lofti "pick-a-back" mounted on top apparently reached only a 100-mile high orbit instead of 500 miles. The payload didn't detach, and it is sending back weak signals. (UPI Telephoto)

Farm Bureau Hears Blast At Soviet Life

An American of Russian heritage pulled no punches yesterday in condemning the Soviet system in a speech at the annual meeting of the Marin County Farm Bureau in Point Reyes Station.

Leon Tichinin termed the Communist way "a filthy, lousy, dirty system—a dictatorship. They have one goal—the Russians will tell you this — world revolution. It's a religion."

Tichinin was born in Russia but was brought to the United States by his family while a child. He is a graduate of the University of California and farm adviser for Santa Clara County.

Tichinin made it clear to the more than 100 farm bureau members at the West Marin School that he was no expert on Russia. He spent 42 days in the country, mainly in Moscow, with the American National Exhibition in 1959. But he talked with literally thousands of ordinary Russians, he said.

He was chosen as an agricultural expert who could speak Russian by the U.S. government, but spent the majority of his 10 hours a day on duty at the exhibit talking about American life, he said.

Again and again Tichinin used the word "fantastic" to describe the Russian people and way of life. More than once he stressed his belief that the Russian economy was aimed only at "heavy industry, scientific achievement and military supremacy" to conquer the world.

"They're not interested in consumer goods," he said.

"The Russian people do not know what is on the outside," Tichinin said, telling of the state radio and television stations, censored press, jammed Voice of America and lack of foreign newspaper.

"The only thing that the (everyday) Russian people really want is peace. They're not going to get it," he said.

Rule by a favored elite is the reason that "the Russians lie—they have to stay alive," declared Tichinin.

Councilman Didn't Live In City

PENDLETON, Ore. (AP) — Councilman Jack Stangier told the city council he had heard reports he lived outside the city limits and thus was not eligible to be a member of the council.

The council ordered a survey, found the city limits ran through his living room and said that Stangier, indeed, was not eligible to be a member.

Sen. Byrd Fears School Aid May Open Integration Door

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.) touched off fresh Southern opposition to President John F. Kennedy's aid to education program with the assertion today that it will open a back door to school integration.

Byrd said he is convinced after an analysis of Kennedy's proposals for federal educational grants to states to spend as they see fit that the program will "pave the way for the most colossal sort of expenditures."

But even more distasteful to him, he said in an interview, is what he regards as the probability that Congress eventually may require school desegregation in all states accepting federal funds.

"Any bill Congress passes now may not carry a desegregation provision. But there is real danger that on some future bill appropriating the money to make the payments to the states a rider may be attached saying that no funds shall go to any state which does not desegregate its schools."

Secretary of Welfare Abraham A. Ribicoff said Monday he believed it would be a great tragedy to use federal aid to education as a lever to end school segregation.

Ribicoff endorsed the 1954 Supreme Court ruling against segregation in public schools. But he said he would deny federal aid to schools because they are segregated.

Byrd's opposition was regarded as significant because some Kennedy administration officials believed the Virginian might go along because of the state control features of the Kennedy bill.

Their efforts to woo Byrd over to their side have been matched by attempts to chip other Southern Democrats away from a bi-partisan conservative coalition opposing the Kennedy proposals.

Even strong administration supporters such as Sen. George A. Smathers (D-Fla.) are wary of any intrusion of the school segregation issue.

Byrd's colleague, Sen. A. Willis Robertson (D-Va.) told the Senate yesterday that Kennedy's proposals have raised the issue of government help to church schools.

Benefit Planned Of Hub Drama

A benefit performance of Thornton Wilder's play, "The Skin of Our Teeth" will be presented at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow by the Festival Theater players at the San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo.

Proceeds from the play, to be held in the seminary gymnasium, will be used for landscaping the grounds of the Sleepy Hollow Presbyterian Church in San Anselmo.

Tickets for the performance may be obtained from Mrs. Richard M. Godfrey, 410 Oak Crest Road, San Anselmo.

Orchid Society Display Saturday

Marin Orchid Society will present an exhibit in the lobby of the First National Bank in San Rafael, Saturday, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The first orchid show of its kind to be held in the county, it will exhibit flowers and plants grown by society members, announced President Louis Dallara of Fairfax.

Tryouts Scheduled For Ballet Aquacade

Two San Rafael Scouts To Attain Eagle Rank

Two San Rafael Boy Scouts of Troop 55 will be elevated to the rank of Eagles at an Eagle Court at 7:30 p.m. Monday at the Marin Rod and Gun Club, Point San Quentin.

They are Ronald L. Gester, son of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Gester, 25 Fairway Drive, and Robert Magladry, son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Magladry, 7 Pigeon Hollow Road.

Storr Smith, Marin County Scout executive, will be present at the court which will be conducted by Fred Tegeler, former Troop 55 Scoutmaster.

In addtion to presentation of the Eagle awards, other members of the troop will be advanced in rank to life, first class, second class and tenderfoot ranks.

Merit badges will also be awarded at the court of honor which will be held in conjunction with the Eagle Court.

Bay Sanitary Board To Meet

The Richardson Bay Sanitary District Board will hold an adjourned meeting March 2 at 7:30 p.m. to review plans and specifications for location of the salt works pumping station.

A 785-square-foot piece of property was purchased by the district Monday night for $392 from Keith N. Morrison for the proposed Del Mar Estates pumping station. Directors accepted Morrison's proviso that a six-foot plywood fence be constructed around the station by the district.

Eight bids were received for building the station at Tiburon Boulevard and Mira Flores Avenue, and the contract is expected to be awarded within 30 days, according to secretary Samuel A. Fletcher.

New Apartments Can Be Inspected

Twin-Oaks, Marin's newest luxury garden apartments in Fairfax, is open for inspection and will be ready for occupancy next Wednesday, owner-builder Joseph Pell announced today.

The apartment is on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard a mile west of the Oak Manor turnoff. Construction is completed, and only the landscaping of a large interior patio and rear recreation area remains.

Four two-story frame buildings house 48 units in all. A large heated swimming pool and a picnic area is under construction. Ground floor units have private front yards, and second story units have private sundecks.

Elizabeth II, Philip To Visit Pope John

LONDON (UPI) —Queen Elizabeth, head of the Church of England, and her husband, Prince Philip, will visit Pope John XXIII at the Vatican during a tour of Italy in May, Buckingham Palace announced today.

The visit is expected to bring outspoken criticism here.

The archbishop of Canterbury, primate of the Church of England, visited Pope John last December during a tour that took him to Turkey and the Holy Land.

That visit, the first by an archbishop of Canterbury to a pope in 500 years, was criticized here. Since then, Dr. Geoffrey Fisher has announced his retirement as archbishop of Canterbury but has said the criticism had nothing to do with his decision.

The palace announcement today said the queen and Prince Philip would visit Pope John at the end of their trip to Italy, which will run from May 2 to 5.

It will be the second visit to the Vatican for the queen, but her first as sovereign. She visited Pope Pius XII when she was Princess Elizabeth in 1951.

Her visit then brought outspoken objections from the National Union of protestants and the Free Church of Scotland.

Princess Margaret, the queen's younger sister, also has made two visits to the Vatican. These visits, too, were criticized.

More recently, the Scottish Free Church group protested the conveyance of the pope's representative to Malta in a Royal Navy ship.

Sources close to the royal family say the queen feels she must ignore such objections.

As head of the British Commonwealth, the queen has millions of Roman Catholics among her subjects, with about five million in Britain alone. The queen believes it would be unthinkable to slight their spiritual head.

Incorporation Study Group Is Appointed

The Tiburon Peninsula Coordinating Council last night appointed a new continuing incorporation study committee to work with the research firm of Griffenhagen-Kroeger Inc.

Kelly J. Wheeler, Tiburon Fire Protection District secretary, will serve as chairman. His committee will consist of one representative from each of the council's 19 member associations.

Council chairman Dick De Berry reminded the association that its pledges for the $1,250 peninsula-wide incorporation study are due on March 15.

The council "accepted without comment" the Tiburon chamber of commerce's letter of resignation from the council.

Gilbert B. Darroch was appointed chairman of the land use committee.

Geronimo Group Plans Election

Nominations for officers and directors of the San Geronimo Valley Assn for 1961-62 will be made on March 21 at 8 p.m. in the Lagunitas School.

This was the decision of the board of directors at a meeting Tuesday night. Directors appointed John Bevans, Mrs. Joseph Furdas and Mrs. Winnifred Frederick as a nominating committee to propose two names for each of the eight directorships and four officers.

Election by the 60 paid members of the association will be held on April 17 at 8 p.m. in the Lagunitas School. Two directors are elected from each of the four communities: San Geronimo, Lagunitas, Wood acre and Forest Knolls.

CIVIC IMPROVEMENT?

Panelists Debate Highway Widening

Optimism mingled with resignation over impending widening of Highway 101 through San Rafael at a panel discussion with listeners' questions on radio station KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board" today.

Three of the four speakers voiced conviction that civic improvement will result from the changes. The fourth feared the peace of a quiet district may be destroyed.

Listeners' questions reflected little public worry, although two voiced concern for businesses forced to move or cope with one-way streets.

The program was tape-recorded and will be rebroadcast at 12:30 p.m. Sunday.

Mayor John F. McInnis led off with a declaration that some earlier changes in the Redwood Highway have been detrimental to San Rafael.

He cited stresses on Francisco Boulevard, the frontage road, leading to frequent periods such as yesterday when the road was "completely choked," the mayor said. Traffic became "blind" at a major point of entrance to the city, but San Rafael had little to say about the change, declared the mayor.

"At this point we have some means of controlling our destinies," he asserted. Agreement between city and state is necessary before the next changes. Eight months of study by consultants have provided "a fresh objective viewpoint" promising "tremendous improvement from the strictly selfish view of San Rafael," the mayor said.

What this improvement may be was explained by Daniel Coleman of the San Francisco engineering firm retained by the city for study.

Not only will there be more main highway lanes, said Coleman, but city traffic will be improved and there will be beautification by landscaping and provision of a lagoon.

J. B. Rice, Francisco Boulevard property owner, portrayed the situation as one where "traffic doctors" have had to go to work and realistic businessmen who are affected just "want the operation over with as soon as possible."

Rice said that having to move on Francisco's Boulevard isn't new. This will be his own fourth move since 1933. He deplored that Marin County possesses but a single main thoroughfare with other roads "often first laid out by cows going to the milking stables."

Max Phelan spoke for residents of the Dominican area who, he said, have seen some of their requirements already met but remain concerned about prospects for construction of an exit-entry ramp at Linden Lane. They hope, he said, that this facility will instead be provided farther north at Puerto Suello Hill.

Phelan said an area of educational and general cultural importance would be disturbed by the Linden Lane ramp. "An exit between two major interchanges defeats the purpose of preserving quiet living areas," he charged.

Coleman said it is realized that many oppose this ramp site but that there is certainly a need for improvement of an existing underpass there.

Questions brought out that neither side of Francisco Boulevard will be actually closed; that exit sign markings are up to the state though as McInnis said "we can always request special markings;" that no local money will be required for execution of the present plans but the city may decide to spend for projects growing out of the highway widening.

Stamp Machine Stolen

A stamp vending machine was stolen from the Trade Fair on the ferryboat Berkeley in Sausalito between 2:30 and 3 p.m. yesterday, owner Luther W. Conover reported to Sausalito police. He valued the machine and the stamps it contained at $50.

Hub Planners Pick Broker As Chairman

Russell Spatz, 36-year-old food broker, has been elected chairman of the San Anselmo Planning Commission.

Spatz, who lives at 72 San Rafael Avenue, San Anselmo, was appointed to the planning commission on Sept. 15, 1958 to replace A. R. Roumiguire. His term expires in June, 1962.

Also elected at Monday night's meeting was Charles R. Leitzell of 72 Oakland Avenue, San Anselmo, as vice chairman. Leitzell was appointed to fill an unexpired term of Merritt Webster on Sept. 20, 1959. His term expires this April.

Spatz replaces former chairman Mary Donnelly, who resigned Jan. 1 after serving 10 years on the commission. Since then Lee Busolo had served as acting chairman.

The six commissioners (Commissioner Charles Alfsnes was absent) denied a proposal to rezone 29 Belle Avenue from single-family to apartment, holding it would be spot zoning because there is an intervening residential lot between adjacent apartment zoning.

An application by Dr. Robert Edelstein for a use permit to build another medical-professional building at 893 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard was denied, but commissioners suggested that he submit plans for an extension of the present building.

Commissioners approved a four-lot subdivision by Clem Construction Co. in a single-family zone at 299 Butterfield Road and a lot split at Brookside Drive and Berkeley Avenue for Samuel S. Knoles.

Church Group Supports Birth Control Method

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Representatives of the bulk of American Protestantism joined today in approving a widely used but religiously explosive practice — artificial birth control.

After extended discussion, the policy-making General Board of the National Council of Churches endorsed such methods as morally Christian, an adjunct to wholesome home life and an aid in world population problems.

The U.S. government was asked to supply birth control help to countries that ask it, a move previously shunned by Washington. The statement also deplored state laws restricting birth-control services.

Those laws "violate the civil and religious liberties of all citizens, including Protestants," the statement said.

It was the first collective Protestant pronouncement on the subject, although numerous individual denominations previously have taken similar action.

Eastern Orthodox churches, also members of the council, abstained from the vote by advance agreement. They traditionally have opposed contraception, as do Roman Catholics.

Dr. Harold Haas of New York City, a United Lutheran Social Welfare official, who presented the measure, said it sought to stress "the spiritual implications of marriage."

While upholding child-bearing as a "divinely ordained purpose" of marriage, it said the sustaining of mutual love between husband and wife, apart from reproduction, also was "ordained of God."

However, it added:

"All agree that Christian marriage should be free from sensuality and selfish indulgence, and that mutually accepted periods of continence can be of value in a common life of Christian discipline."

But the statement said such periodic abstinence from intercourse "is not inherently superior from a moral point of view" in avoiding pregnancy, than scientific means of birth control.

School Board Sets Policy On Promotions

Special promotions and demotions will be permitted at faculty discretion in Stinson Beach and Bolinas schools, the Bolinas-Stinson Beach School District's interim board decided last night.

The board established as a policy that teachers may grant special promotions or put pupils back a grade when such action appears justified, reported Arthur E. Carpenter, board chairman.

The board also approved assignment of homework as a district policy, leaving the amount up to the teachers.

Neither Bolinas nor Stinson Beach, which operated separately prior to the recent merger election, has had a policy on these matters previously, said Carpenter.

Policy for the new combined district on report cards, parent-teacher conferences and inclusion of foreign languages in the curriculum will be discussed at the board's next meeting, March 22.

Jobless Aid Bill Approved By House Unit

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Ways and Means Committee today approved legislation for President John F. Kennedy's billion-dollar program of temporary unemployment aids.

Democratic leaders said they expect passage in time to meet the administration's goal—payments to the long-time unemployed by April 1.

The committee version includes the financing plan favored by Republicans and most business spokesmen who appeared before the committee. The estimated 990-million-dollar cost would be repaid during 1962 and 1963 by a temporary four-tenths of 1 per cent increase in the payroll tax employers now pay.

The bill provides for continuing unemployment insurance payments to jobless persons who have exhausted their basic rights under the federal-state unemployment insurance program.

The payments would continue up to one-half the time the various states originally provided. Since the longest state program is for 26 weeks, the maximum extension would be 13 weeks. Payment would be at the weekly rate provided by the various states.

States which, on their own, have put in emergency extensions, would receive refunds.

Officials estimated the plan would take two weeks to go into effect after approval by Congress.

State Textbooks May Go To Needy

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Almost a million textbooks will be saved from the torch and probably be shipped to Africa, the Philippines, Okinawa or some other needy country.

That seemed almost certain today after the legislature, the governor and even the White House leaped into action at word the State Department of Education had burned 650,000 obsolete elementary textbooks in the last four years and still had another 970,000 to dispose of.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown said he telephoned the White House and found the federal government might be able to put them to "great use, particularly in Africa."

But he said the U. S. Information Agency would have to evaluate the new elementary school readers to decide whether they would be accepted.

Sen. James J. McBride (D-Ventura) introduced a resolution saying the Naval Base at Port Hueneme was "ready, willing and anxious" to take the books for distribution in the Philippines, Okinawa and other areas.

The education department said the books were burned when they became obsolete because they could not be sold and state law prevents making a gift of state property.

OFTEN ASKED

However, McBride said the legislature often is asked to permit the disposal of state records and other obsolete material and his resolution would permit the department to give the books to the Navy.

Disclosure of the burning Tuesday immediately spurred the legislature to launch an investigation and demand that the education department put a halt to it.

Assemblyman Glenn E. Coolidge (R-Felton) author of the resolution calling for the investigation and chairman of the ways and means subcommittee which will conduct it, said the probe may take in all facets of the state textbook program as well as the book burning incidents.

Indirectly involved was the state's system of providing textbooks for local districts by leasing the printing plates from private publishers and printing the books in the state printing plant. The education department said the contracts for leasing the plates prohibited the state from selling surplus books to other states.

STATE SYSTEM

Another factor was the state practice of adopting one book per subject. The State Board of Education adopted new books for use in the next school year so the old ones, although more than a million were in stock, were ticketed for destruction.

Assemblyman Gordon H. Winton (D-Merced) said a citizen's committee on education reported some time ago that there would be a substantial number of readers left over because school districts were spending 2.3 million dollars for other readers rather than take the state-selected readers free.

Winton said his bills directing the state to select and provide more than one textbook would solve the basic unpopularity of those chosen under the state's single adoption method.

Bills were inroduced in both houses yesterday to permit the state to give surplus textbooks to the federal government.

Emergency Job Benefit Law Gaining

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The legislature was close today to taking its first major step to cushion the slowdown in business and jobs.

Only Assembly approval remained to complete passage of a bill extending emergency unemployment benefits to 55,000 Californians in March.

The Senate approved the measure yesterday, 38-0.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown already has said he would sign the bill just as soon as it reaches his desk. Effective next Wednesday, it would give 13 additional weeks of unemployment insurance to workers who have exhausted the regular 26 weeks since Dec. 1.

The extra benefits will cost eight million dollars.

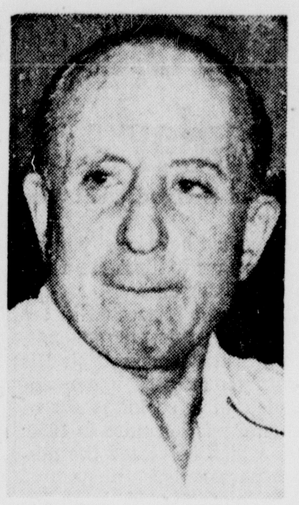
"The prime function of this bill is to get over the crucial months of March," said Sen. Stanford C. Shaw (D-Ontario), who introduced the measure.

Shaw said a business upturn is expected in the spring. Without the legislation, the state couldn't start paying extended benefits until April 1.

An Assembly committee has approved a similar bill, and there's every likelihood that the Senate legislation will speed through the lower house.

Planners To Meet

The Sausalito Planning Commission will meet March 8 at 8 p.m. in the city hall for a hearing on a proposed new sign ordinance. The commission did not meet last night because of the holiday.



MARQUIS DIES — Marquis Georges de Cuevas, 75, ballet impresario who married a Rockefeller heiress, died yesterday of leukemia at Cannes, France. He lived in the grand manner. Born in Chile, he became an American citizen and married the former Margaret Stone, a granddaughter of John D. Rockefeller. He founded ballet organizations, and in 1953 staged a costume ball so exotic that the Vatican rebuked him for it as immoral. Three years ago he fought a duel with his choreographer because of a difference in the interpretation of a ballet. (AP Wirephoto)

Bill Would Shift Use Of State Funds

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Bills were introduced in the Assembly yesterday to shift some 728 million dollars from state special funds to other uses.

Chairman Jesse M. Unruh (D-Los Angeles) of the Assembly Ways and Means Committee said he offered the bills "to increase the fiscal responsibility of the state legislature."

Unruh said the special funds plus another 800 million dollars are frozen by law and the constitution, and remove about two-thirds of state spending from legislative control.

"Thus we cannot use these huge sums to meet the shifting needs of our citizens," he said.

Among the funds—some now inoperative or obsolete— are the Beaches and Parks fund, the State Lands Act Fund, the Legislative Printing Fund, Redemption Tax Fund, Assembly Contingent Fund.

Wins Contest

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Carol Ogata, Pahoa, Hawaii, a 17-year-old of Japanese ancestry, has won the 14th annual voice of Democracy Broadcast script-writing contest.

Miss Ogata's script was chosen yesterday as the best of those from finalists from all 50 states and the District of Columbia. She received a $1,500 scholarship to any college in the United States.

Some Hospitals Called 'Community Parasites'

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —A charge that some private hospitals are "community parasites" was made yesterday by Assemblyman Ronald B. Cameron (D-Whittier), before a legislative committee.

The Assembly Public Health Committee was hearing a proposal by Cameron to open hospital records on file with the State Department of Public Health to the public.

"Many proprietary hospitals cause a parasitic situation," Cameron declared, "by taking the profitable kinds of cases while the public-supported community hospitals get all the unprofitable cases."

Cameron lost his bill when committee members decided he would have to prove his charge before it passed on the proposal.

But without access to the departmental records, Cameron acknowledged that he couldn't prove a thing.

"I have the circumstantial evidence," Cameron said, "but I can't document it until we have access to those records." He conducted a one-man investigation of hospitalization in Southern California for two years.

The committee chairman, Assemblyman W. Byron Rumford (D-Berkeley), appointed a four-man subcommittee to hear Cameron's specific complaints.

Oil Paintings Of Old Missions On Display

Twenty-two large oil paint-

Twenty-two large oil portrayals of the old Alta California Franciscan Missions as originally completed in early years of the last century are on free open-air display through Sunday on the grass beside St. Raphael's Parochial School on Fifth Avenue, San Rafael, opposite the courthouse.

This is but a few yards from the reconstructed modernization of one of the missions portrayed, now St. Raphael's Church. The painting shows the low building of the original construction with a herd of albino horses, for which the locality was once well known, in the foreground.

Conducting the exhibit, and living nearby in a large gray trailer, is John A. Davis, retired architectural draftsman of Monterey, who did the paintings himself and is making it his hobby to dislay them at each of the 22 mission sites.

"I hope through this free exhibit to create interest in mission restoration," said Davis. "These 22 old missions are foundation stones of our state of California — our greatest and most important historical monuments, a priceless heritage. They should be fully restored and perpetuated forever."

Arranged on easels in sets of two, the paintings are being kept in position day and night. This is their next-to-last stop. They will move finally to display at Mission San Francisco Solano in Sonoma County, Davis said.

He terms his paintings "not a fine arts exhibit" but rather a primitive portrayal of mission life, with trees, flowers and shrubs carefully worked in as essential details of the period along with grains, fruits and animals raised, and trades taught.

Davis said he orignally made his paintings to illustrate a history of California.

He became interested in the Moorish-Spanish type of mission construction in 1921. His paintings resulted from acquisiion of a complete set of prints of mission ruins in 1956, after which he visited the missions personally.

His tour, he said, is on behalf of the Franciscan Fathers in Oakland who are trying to organize a tourist bureau to conduct tours of the missions. In this connection an effort is being made to have all the missions restored by 1969, considered the 200th anniversary of the missions. Cost of the restoration has been estimated at 38 million dollars.

Davis's exhibit tour started at San Diego Mission last Sept. 1. He spends six days at the site of each of the missions.

Felon's Wife Arrested In Postal Clerk Knifing

Martha Ophelia Giguiere, wife of a San Quentin Prison inmate who escaped and was captured in a bullet-punctuated chase through San Rafael last October, was arrested by San Rafael police today for investigation of the stabbing of a 33-year-old postal clerk.

The 29-year-old woman, who lives at 111 C Street, San Rafael, was booked for investigation of assault with a deadly weapon, displaying a weapon in a threatening manner and drunkenness.

John Robert Oliveira, of the same address, was found, shortly after midnight, wandering along B Street with his shirt and trousers soaked with blood and was taken to San Rafael General Hospital.

He was treated for cuts on the neck and chin and released. Officer John Douglas said Oliveria told him he had been stabbed with a serrated-edged kitchen knife.

Oliveria said he had been drinking with Mrs. Giguiere in the Flat Iron bar, Second and B Streets, yesterday and they started arguing over a woman's purse which Mrs. Giguiere found next to Oliveira. He said he went home and when Mrs. Giguiere arrived a few hours later they started arguing again. The woman ran to the kitchen and returned with a six-inch knife, he said.

"She lunged at my throat," he told police. "She cut me before I could get the knife away from her."

Inside the house, police found blood splattered on the bedsheets, pillowcases and floor.

Mrs. Giguiere is the wife of Carl E. Giguiere, 35, convicted forger and parole violator from Lassen County, who escaped from San Quentin last Oct. 30. He was captured in San Rafael by two young airmen from Hamilton Air Force Base. He is now in Folsom Prison.

Jury May Get Attack Case Tomorrow

A Novato truck driver, accused of trying to rape a 49-year-old secretary last November, was so drunk he does not recall a thing since he got in the cab with the woman, his attorney told the jury today.

Attorney Albert E. Bagshaw told the jury of six men and six women in Marin Superior Court that he will introduce evidence to show that Joseph Andrew York, 33, was so intoxicated he had no rational judgment at the time of the alleged attack.

The case, being tried before Judge Thomas F. Keating, is expected to go to the jury tomorrow. Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety rested the prosecution's case this noon. The district attorney contends York insisted on riding with the woman in the cab, then carried her to a secluded section in the garden of the woman's home and tried to assault her.

Bagshaw pictured his client, York, as a man with a drinking problem. Bagshaw said he will show that the woman made advances to York at a Novato bar. The attorney contends she did not object when he joined her in the taxicab.

Army Will Retire Six Marinites

Six Marin County men will retire from the Army tomorrow at the Presidio in San Francisco where a retreat parade and review of troops will be held at 4 p.m.

They are Lt. Col. Harold P. Miller, Headquarters Sixth Army, 129 Birch Avenue, Corte Madera; Lt. Col. William B. Pierce, Headquarters XV Army Corps, 33 Prince Royal Passage, Corte Madera; Lt. Col. Robert L. Sherman, Headquarters, XV Army Corps, 48 Madeline Court, Novato; Lt. Col. Forrest P. McKie, Headquarters Sixth Army, 23 Claire Way, Mill Valley; Major John B. Conkle, 199th Military Intelligence Detachment, 5 Harbor Drive, Corte Madera; M/Sgt. Henry Cullinane, C Company, Army Garrison, 7 Merman Drive, San Rafael.

Troops from the Presidio and Fort Baker will pass in review during the ceremony.

Art Collection Course Planned

For those interested in understanding and collecting art, University of California Extension has planned an evening course, "Art: Exploring the Media of Expression," which will open March 13 at Sir Francis Drake High School in San Anselmo.

Taught by Mrs. Margaret Zegart of Mill Valley, graphic artist and painter, the course will survey specific art media—painting, prints, sculpture and drawing.

Enrollments will be accepted at the first meeting of the class.

Solon Loses Cough Drops To Burglars

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Sneak thieves looted the apartment of Sen. John F. McCarthy (R-San Rafael) last night—but all they took was a box of cough drops.

The senator surprised one of three thieves climbing out of the window of his apartment near the capitol. The senator shouted and two other men dived out of the apartment window and ran.

MiCarthy chased the trio briefly and, unsuccessfully, and then returned to his apartment and called police.

"They ransacked all the drawers and closets, but the only thing missing was a box of cough drops," McCarthy said.

"I know they got the cough drops because I found one on the kitchen floor. I keep my apartment so neat that I knew I didn't drop it there."

KENNEDY

and minerals and for seafood; great expansion of recreational areas; and control of air and water pollution.

Kennedy said that in marketing federal electric power, preference will be given to public agencies and cooperatives.

In outlining plans for water resources development, the president said "we reject a 'no new starts' policy."

Kennedy did not name the Eisenhower administration but aides said this was a slap at his predecessor's regime. Kennedy and other Democrats contended during the campaign last year that the government under former President Dwight D. Eisenhower stifled development of water resources by advocating an economy policy, which, the critics said, blocked the start of new projects.

"Such a policy," Kennedy said today, "denied the resource requirements and potential upon which our economic growth hinges; and took a heavy toll in added costs and even human life and homes by postponing essential flood control projects."

As for the future in this field, the president said: "I have requested the director of the Bureau of the Budget, working with appropriate department and agency heads, to schedule a progressive, orderly program of starting new projects to meet accumulated demands, taking into account the availability of funds."

In this case and generally throughout his message Kennedy mentioned no specific projects. Legislation detailing these is expected to go to Congress later.

Kennedy said his goal was to bring together in a single message "the widely scattered resource policies of the federal government." He added that in the past these policies have overlapped and often conflicted, "and funds were wasted on competing efforts."

The president said he was striving for coordination of policy by:

Directing his Council of Economic Advisers to enlarge its staff and report on the status of resources programs in relation to national needs.

Establishing, under the council, a presidential advisory committee on natural resources.

Instructing the budget director to formulate within 90 days general principles for application of fees, permits and other user charges at all types of natural resource projects, and to re-evaluate standards for appraising feasibility of water resource projects.

Elisabethville, Katanga, followed a planned development instead of growing helter-skelter.

Youth, 19, Faces Battery Complaint

A battery complaint was issued today against James Acheson, about 19, of Fairfax, accused of beating a College of Marin student at the school parking lot Tuesday morning.

Victim of the attack, Richard Allen Dyer of 97 Forrest Avenue, Fairfax, told investigators he suffered a black eye and injuries to his side.

Dyer said that on Monday, Acheson accosted him at the college and threatened to beat him up for going out with a girl three years ago. Dyer said he knew of no incident involving the girl and refused to fight.

Tuesday morning, Acheson again appeared as Dyer left his car to attend classes. Dyer said Acheson grabbed him and hit him in the face and body. Richard James McCamish of Forest Knolls tried to intervene but he, too, was threatened, Dyer told officers.

School Fund Study Groups Are Formed

Twelve Marin County architects met Tuesday in Mill Valley to set up study groups on classroom costs for Mill Valley School District and Tamalpais High School District, to provide information to thep ublic prior to bond issue elections for both districts on April 18.

Study groups, according to chairman Arthur Sestak of Mill Valley, will complete their surveys March 15 and submit them to the architects committee. A speakers committee was also organized to provide technical information on school construction and related costs to business and community groups, Sestak said.

He said that 50 architects have volunteered their services to work on the study.

New Appeal Made Against Congo Killings

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The United Nations disclosed today a new appeal to leftist leader Antoine Gizenga in Stanleyville against political revenge killings in the Congo.

The United Nations released a letter to Ginzenga from Rajeshwar Dayal, Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold's special representative in the Congo, taking note of reports that 15 political prisoners in Stanleyville had been shot in revenge for the slaying of ex-Premier Patrice Lumumba.

Hammarskjold sought the help of Belgium in getting Belgian military personnel and political advisers out of the Congo. He sent a letter to Walter Loridan, Belgian ambassador at the United Nations containing suggestions from Hammarskjold's Congo Advisory Committee.

San Rafael Jumps Up In County's Listing Of Mumps

San Rafael is hardest hit by mumps, according to the Marin County Health Department's weekly report on communicable diseases reported in the county last week.

Marin had a total of 35 cases of mumps during the week ending Feb. 18. Of these, 31 occurred in San Rafael, Dr. Carolyn Albrecht reported. San Anselmo had two cases of mumps and Kentfield had two.

Ten persons fell victims to measles. Four were in Larkspur, three in San Rafael, and one each in Sausalito, Corte Madera and San Anselmo.

There were three strep infections in Mill Valley and three in San Rafael for a county total of six. Mill Vally reported one case of infectious hepatitis.

OBITUARIES

Mary Titus, Terra Linda, Succumbs

Mrs. Mary Louise Titus, 68, resident of Terra Linda for seven years, died early today in a local hospital after a brief illness.

Mrs. Titus resided with her son and daughter-in-law, Lt. Col. and Mrs. James C. Titus, at 761 Monticello Road. She came to Marin County from her home in Lafayette, Ind., after the death of her husband, Byron O. Titus.

Mrs. Titus attended the First Presbyterian Church in San Rafael.

Survivors also include a son, Hugh M. Titus of Fanwood, N.J.; two sisters, Mrs. George Palmer of Richmond and Mrs. Edith Miller of Lafayette, Ind., and a brother, Victor Hennigar of Indianapolis, Ind.

Funeral services and interment will be in Lafayette, Ind.

JANE WYLES

Private funeral services were held today in San Francisco for Mrs. Jane Taylor Wyles, former Fairfax and Bolinas resident who died Monday in a San Francisco hospital after a long illness.

A native of Liverpool, England, Mrs. Wyles was the widow of the late John M. Wyles, also of Liverpool. She first came to the United States in 1938 and lived in Marin County from 1955 to 1958.

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Kenneth Lamott of Tiburon and Mrs. Millard Morgen of San Francisco; two sons, Noel D. Wyles of Summitt, N.J., and Bryan A. Wyles of Grand Rapids, Minn.; two sisters, Miss Alice Taylor of Liverpool, and Mrs. Ben Holt of Cardiff, Wales, and seven grandchildren.

Inurnment will be in England.

Drowning Victim Search Fails

Five members of the Marin County sheriff's mounted posse searched an 11-mile area along McClure's Beach for almost six hours yesterday looking for the body of a San Francisco teenager who drowned Feb. 4.

The men, led by Raymond H. Shone, rode over the beach on horseback from 10:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. searching for the body of Paul Vosher, 17, who drowned while surf swimming with two teen-age companions. They failed to find the body.

Contractor Licenses Due Three Companies

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—The Contractors' State License Board announced it plans to issue contractors' licenses to three Marin County firms, if no protests are received by March 9.

Hulder O. Lee, 112 Melrose Avenue, Mill Valley, will be issued a general building contractor's license. Marin County Roofing Co., 450 Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael, will be issued a roofing contractor's license. Kenneth O. Whitfield, 645 Glenwood Avenue, Mill Valley, will be issued a painting and decorating contractor's license.

TO HIGHWAYS, BEACHES

Balmy Holiday Weather Brings Everyone Out

Balmy weather on Washington's Birthday sent thousands of motorists chugging along Marin County highways yesterday.

They caused traffic-jams and bumper-to-bumper traffic in Sausalito, San Rafael and along Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in San Anselmo.

A record number of persons —some 4,545—visited Muir Woods National Monument according to Supt. Frederick M. Martischang. This was more than the park has had on any mid-week holiday and almost 500 more than last Feb. 22.

A series of teen-age beer parties and fights on the West Marin beaches were broken up by Marin and Sonoma authorities.

About 20 youths in six cars, all from Sonoma County, were hauled back to Sonoma for questioning. Lt. Sidney Stinson of the Marin Sheriff's Office, said no one was seriously hurt, but several cars were damaged especially at McClure's Beach. Since none of the suspects were from Marin, deputies turned them over to Sonoma County sheriff's office without taking their names.

Other disturbances were reported at McClure, Dillon and Stinson Beach and Tomales State Park.

At Mount Tamalpais State Park, 4,775 hikers and picnickers climbed about the slopes and crest of the mountain, according to ranger George Holmboe.

Samuel P. Taylor State Park had the largest number of visitors of any day this year. An estimated 2,000 persons visited the park.

The California Highway Patrol reported a number of minor accidents in the morning and evening. The Golden Gate Bridge was packed with traffic last night returning to San Francisco.

DARK REVEALS LINEUP IDEAS

Kuenn On First, Alou On Third

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Alvin Dark is obviously a man with ideas of his own.

The rookie manager of the San Francisco Giants held his opening practice session yesterday, a workout for catchers and pitchers plus first baseman Willie McCovey, who arrived early. The squad was held to 15 by the airlines strike and three pitching holdouts.

Dark fired these opening salvos:

Centerfielder Willie Mays under no circumstances would play all 154 games.

Newly acquired Harvey Kuenn will start working out at first base.

Outfielder Felipe Alou will be given a shot at third base in competition with regular Jim Davenport.

And Orlando Cepeda will play where he doesn't wan to play—left field.

Dark explained his expected limitation on Mays by saying, "These days, nobody can play every day and maintain peak efficiency. The night games and the flying get you down eventually. I know Willie wants to play 'em all, but I figure 145 games will be plenty."

Mays has never played less than 151 games a season when he's been around for the entire year. The exceptions were his rookie season and the years he was in the Army.

Dark said Alou hits too well not to play regularly. If Davenport falters with injuries, as in the past, Felipe would be of more use to the club if available at two positions.

Cepeda in left and Kuenn at first is a turnabout from the stated desires of each player. Cepeda broke in as a first baseman with the Giants and Kuenn said recently in Miami that he preferred the outfield. But Harvey said he would play anywhere for Dark.

In addition to McCovey, veteran on hand include catcher Hobie Landrith anud pitchers Eddie Fisher, Stu Miller and Mike McCormick. Hurlers Billy C'Dell and Sam Joes sent word that the air strike had grounded them. Catcher Bob Schmidt was due today by car.

Pitchers still unsigned are righthanders Jack Sanford, Billy Loes and Juan Marichal.

A fourth holdout, first baseman Jim Marshall, wasn't due until the rest of the squad reports next Monday.

McCovey and rookie catcher Tom Haller, up from Tacoma, banged the ball during a short batting drill.

Haller, a 212-pound former Big Ten quarterback from Illinois, hit four out of the park.

Al Dark Discusses New Job In First Day As Manager Of Giants

PHOENIX, Ariz.—Al Dark donned a spic and span Giant uniform yesterday. It bore No. 1. It was the first time he was in a Giant suit since June of 1956.

That was when Dark's most successful six-year period of captaining the Giants ended in a trade that sent him and Whitey Lockman to the Cardinals for Red Schoendienst and Jackie Brandt.

HANLEY

The easy way Dark wore the uniform was a tipoff that he was no stranger to it. And the way he sat behind the manager's desk in a little office adjoining the dressing room indicated he had been grooming himself for this job a long while.

"Yes, Dark acknowledged, "as a player I began training myself for a manager's job. No, the job doesn't frighten me."

As a rookie manager, Dark said he has no intention of copying any other manager although during the winter he talked with several of them. We also had a couple of long talks with Eddy Stanky, his roommate for four years when the Giants won the pennant in '51 and '54.

FROM BILL RIGNEY he received some specific information about the men who will take orders from him this year. From Cookie Lavagetto, Paul Richards and others he got some general tips about managing.

"When I was a player I could talk to them only in that capacity," said Dark. As a manager, however, the talk is on a different plane."

In discussing players, what do managers talk about?

"Courage and desire," said Dark. "At least, those are two things I want to know about a player. You can't give a boy courage and you can't put desire into him."

ALTHOUGH DARK says that "one key player can mould a ball club," he will not appoint a team captain "just to have one—only if it will definitely help the team."

He feels the same way about rules. Report times will be definite. But the only other rules will deal with conduct affecting the team.

"We are not going to have rules just for the sake of rules," said Dark, "and I have no intention of trying to change anyone's living habits."

DARK MADE it quite clear, however, if a player's conduct affects his or the team's play, he won't hesitate to levy a fine.

It was only the first day of spring training, actually only a gentle warmup session for the pitchers and catchers. But in his quiet, unobtrusive way Dark definitely had taken over. There was no mistaking around the Giant camp who was boss.

Paul Kende, junior foilsman on Columbia University's fencing team, was born in Hungary. He lives in Astoria, N.Y.

Prep Of Week Honors For 2 Standouts

Tuesday's Marin County Athletic League's basketball program produced two instead of the usual one "Prep of the Week" awards, it was announced this week by the Independent-Journal and Radio KTIM selection committee.

Sharing honors for sparking their teams to important victories are Mike Kavanagh of Redwood High's first place Giants and Jerry Smith of the Marin Catholic Wildcats.

Kavanagh grabbed 15 rebounds and scored 9 points as Redwood routed Tamalpais 56-38 and knocked the Indians out of a first place tie.

Smith turned in his second straight brilliant game, scoring 15 points as he led Marin in a comeback that also knocked San Rafael out of a tie for the lead, 41-40.

Ex-Marin College Athletes Meet At Reunion Tomorrow

College of Marin athletes from the years 1946-47-48, including the national junior college basketball champions of 1948, will assemble in Fairfax tomorrow night for their biennial reunion.

The gathering, expected to attract close to 100 former Marin stars, will start at 6:30 o'clock at Buon Gusto Villa, according to a committee headed by Walt Moreno, Ralph Tierney, Jack Ertola, Art Feidler and Milton Schwartz.

Moreno was an All-American selection on Marin's national chamionship quintet. Others from that team expected to attend the reunion are All-American Herb Jotter, Feidler, Bob McCune, Ray Snyder, Ken Gardner, Lee Rice, Jim Burcell, Howard Glaeser and Carl Anaclerio.

Former coaches Irwin "Red" Diamond and Arleigh Williams and present Marin Director of Athletics Harry Pieper will attend, the committee said.

Porky Oliver Day Raises $2,375 For Stricken Golfer

PALM SPRINGS (UPI)—El Dorado Country Club officials today announced the special Ed (Porky) Oliver Day at the recent Palm Springs Golf Classic raised $2,375 for the popular pro golfer recently stricken with cancer.

Particpating clubs besides the El Dorado were Bermuda Dunes, Indian Wells and Thunderbird.

James L. O'Keefe, national chairman of the "Porky" Oliver fund, accepted the money from Walter Burkemo.

The next fund-raising affair for Oliver will be held April 14 at the Houston, Tex., Open.

Boccabella's Bat Powers Santa Clara '9' To Victory

John Boccabella of San Anselmo, a sophomore third baseman for the University of Santa Clara varsity, powered the talented Broncos to an 8-2 victory over San Francisco State College yesterday at Washington Park in Santa Clara.

Boccabella, cleanup batter, collected four consecutive hits, including a mighty 380-foot home run in the Broncos' first game of the season. His other three hits were singles and he wound up with two runs batted in. Afield he played errorless ball at the hot corner.

The Broncos combed three S.F. hurlers for 11 hits. They jumped off to a 5-0 first inning lead, added another run in the second and completed their scoring in the fourth on Boccabella's two-run circuit smash.

Boccabella is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Boccabella of 317 Greenfield Avenue. He starred in football and baseball at Marin Catholic High School through 1959 and last year led the Santa Clara freshman team in hitting.

Angel Rookie Signs

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Rookie pitcher Aubrey Gatewood has returned his signed contract to the Los Angeles Angels and will report to Palm Springs tomorrow for the start of spring training.

Gatewood was obtained from the Detroit Tigers in the draft. He was 11-8 with Durham and Duluth last year, fanning 102 in 95 innings. He is 21, a righthander and lives in North Little Rock, Ark.

Carbo Extortion Trial Continues

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The trial of Frankie Carbo and four others on extortion charges continues today with the selection of a jury.

Court was in recess yesterday because of Washington's Birthday on Tuesday, defense attorneys claimed Negroes have been excluded from the jury list, but U.S. District Judge Ernest A. Tolin denied the accusation.

Carbo, Truman Gibson, Frank (Blinky) Palermo, Louis Tom Dragna and Joseph Sica, the latter two of Los Angeles, are accused of threatening the former managers of ex-welterweight boxing champion Don Jordan in trying to grab part of the fighter's contract.

Carbo two days ago finished a two-year prison sentence in New York for acting as an undercover manager of boxers there.

Fanny Patting Among Our Athletes Just A Fine Old American Custom

CONNOLLY

My young Latin American friend, Alfredo, is all upset about the mannerisms of "los atletas norteamericanos."

"Don't misunderstand me, Senor Juan," says Alfredo, "The North American athletes are los mejores — the best. But why do they always run around patting each other on the backsides? In my country a man should do this to another man and he gets his teeth knocked down his throat!"

Ever since Alfredo posed me this question I have been very conscious of this typical mannerism of ours, and a little surprised at the amount of fanny patting that goes on in our games.

In football this job is generally assigned to the middle linebacker on defense. Depending on the formation he has from four to seven well padded posteriors available and usually makes the rounds before the ball is passed with a couple of extra pats for the weakest link in the defense.

IN BASKETBALL, most of the fanny patting is apparent just before a player shoots a foul shot from the free throw line. The job usually belongs to the "team man," the player whose personality is the type that binds the other prima donnas into a unit. Usually one of the smaller men. The playmaker. "Make it good, buddy (pat), this one will put us in front and we've got 'em (pat)."

In baseball, too, fanny patting is a specialty, usually practiced by the manager or coach who is trying to steady a wobbly pitcher. The boss strolls out to the mound, looks the situation over, talks to the catcher and decides to leave the man in to throw to the next batter. "Pour it in, kid. This guy's a bum (pat)."

SURPRISINGLY, most other sports are comparatively free of this great American pastime. Somehow I can't picture the representative of a sponsoring sporting goods company patting a golf pro on the seat of the pants just before he tries for a match winning putt on the 18th hole.

In the ring, a fighter is sent back to the wars with a pat on the back—or maybe a bit of a shove if he seems a bit reluctant to continue getting his brains beat out. Could be a manager or trainer thinks twice before getting familiar with a guy who could knock him into queer street with one punch.

Tennis, track and field, skiing, ice hockey, even rugby lean more to the hand shake or more to the point, the embrace.

So you can imagine my delight last week when I read a squib from jolly old England that the British soccer players were being called on the carpet for too much hugging and kissing under the goalposts after a score was made. Well!

SINCE SOCCER is a major sport in Latin America, here was my answer to Alfredo. In North America we reserve the hugging and kissing for the opposite sex. How about this, amigo?

"But, Senor Juan, you do not understand. The abrazo, the embrace, and the kiss of victory are time honoured symbols of the greatest respect for your fellow man," explained Alfredo. "It is even given to the soldier when he is decorated. How could anyone object to this?"

Which just about puts us back where we started. Each to his own taste, as the woman said as she kissed the cow!

As an old fanny patter from way back, I withdraw from the argument. Maybe the Freudians and the head shrinkers can read between the lines, but to me it's just good clean sport!

Eddie Machen Impressive In Kayo Win

STOCKTON (UPI)—It's a long road to the top for heavyweight Eddie Machen, but fights like his battle against Garvin Sawyer of New York could shorten the trip.

Machen, who rates behind the leading trio of Patterson, Johansson and Liston, knocked out Sawyer last night in the fifth round of their scheduled 10-round brawl.

Sawyer, who weighed 200 to Machen's 195, was saved by the bell ending the fourth round when Machen decked him with a left hook. Timekeeper Floyd Parsons had counted to three when the bell rang.

IT'S ALL OVER

In the fifth stanza, Machen belted Sawyer with more left hooks and left-right combinations. Near the end of the round, Sawyer was dropped for a nine count by another left hook. He got up and Machen landed a solid right.

Referee Pete Morelli immediately raised Machen's hand in victory as the bell sounded to end the stanza.

Machen had piled up an early lead in the first three rounds, but did not hurt his foe until the fourth round.

A crowd of 3,000 witnessed the scrap and roared approval for Machen, who grew up in northern California but now fights out of Portland, Ore.

College To Give Constitution Test

An examination on the United States Constitution, necessary for renewal of the California teaching credential, will be offered by the College of Marin adult education school March 21.

The examination will be preceded by three lectures on the constitution next Tuesday, March 7 and March 14 from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. in room 37, Science Building, at the college. Attendance at the lectures is not required. The class will be taught by college faculty member Leonard Blomquist.

Lefty Guessed Wrong

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Last spring, Giant hitting coach Lefty O'Doul worked with Jim Davenport, Willie Kirkland, Ed Bressoud and Hobie Landrith. He concentrated on them, and was willing to wager each would up their batting average 10 to 20 points.

Each had lower averages for 1960.

Here are the comparative figures with 1959 averages first:

Davenport .258 to .251; Kirkland .272 to .252 and recently traded to Cleveland; Bressoud .251 to .255 and Landrith .251 to .242.

The four Giants lost a collective 62 points.

FIGHTERS WRITE

Floyd Says Ingo Has Greatest Right Hand

By FLOYD PATTERSON

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (UPI)—Ingemar Johansson is the greatest right hand puncher I ever have fought. And anybody fighting him has to respect that wallop or risk the consequences.

I made such a mistake in our first fight, when he knocked r e out in the third round. I profited by respecting him in the second fight and knocked him out in the fifth round.

'HE HIT ME'

He had hit me flush in the second round of our last fight but, because I was on the ball, I was able to maneuver my way out of danger.

Having gotten to him in the second fight doesn't mean I'll hold him cheap in the third. It's a new deal all around and he can be dangerous as he ever was.

I know it better than anybody else and I'll remember it.

By INGEMAR JOHANSSON

PALM BEACH, Fla. (UPI)—When I run on the road each morning, I keep telling myself that Whitey Bimstein, my American trainer, always says: "The body gets the credit, the legs do the job."

I realize that I am no better in a fight than my ability to move around. I couldn't get out of my own way, as you say in this country, in my second fight with Floyd Patterson. I would have to think it was that my legs weren't in shape.

Whatever has happened is over with and today I'm listening to Bimstein on road work. Five, six miles are ordinary for me.

On March 13 at Miami Beach, I will be ready to travel 15 rounds at top speed if necessary. This isn't something I am hoping to do, this is something I know I can do.

Yes, the legs do the work but in my case they will get the credit too.

Palmer Favored At Baton Rouge; Opening Delayed

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — With some sunshine expected to help dry out the Sherwood Forest Country Club course, entrants in the $20,000 Baton Rouge Open today took advantage of a day's delay in starting the tournament to get accustomed to the course.

The 72-hole event was due to start today, but officials delayed it 24 hours because of weather conditions. It will run through Sunday.

Heading the field will be defending champion Arnold Palmer, fresh from his victory in the Phoenix Open, and the venerable Sam Snead, who set the tourney record here of 275 when he last competed in the event in 1953.

The winter tour's leading money winner, Gary Player of South Africa, will play in a threesome with 1952 winner Jack Burke Jr. and former LSU star Johnny Pott of Shreveport.

Palmer will play with 1959 Baton Rouge winner Howie Johnson, and Doug Ford, who has won more money here over the years than any other golfer.

Marin Racing Club Meets Tomorrow Night

All racing fans are invited to a meeting tomorrow night of the Marin County Kart and Quarter Midget Racing Assn. at San Rafael High School auditorium, 7:30 o'clock, it was announced today.

Showing of color racing movies, election of officers, and discussion of plans for a racing track in San Rafael are on the agenda.

49ERS LYLES, WOODSON HIGH IN RUNBACKS

NEW YORK (AP) — Rookie Tom Moore of the Green Bay Packers captured the 1960 kickoff return title in the National Football League, final statistics disclosed today. The San Francisco 49ers won team return honors.

Moore, formerly of Vanderbilt, averaged 33.1 yards on 12 returns for 397 yards. His longest return was 84 yards.

Len Lyles of San Francisco, 10th in 1959, was the runnerup in 1960 with an average of 30.9 yards on 17 returns for 526 yards. Lyles returned one kickoff 97 yards for a touchdown.

Abe Woodson of the 49ers was third with a 29.3 average. Woodson won the 1959 title. John Sample of Baltimore was fourth with 28.8 yards and Willie West of St. Louis fifth with 28.5.

San Francisco won the team title with a 27.1 average.

Hamilton Bowman Wins Washington Archery Tourney

Al Hoffer of Hamilton Air Force Base won the Northwoods Bowmen's Club annual Washington's Birthday Handicap on the club archery range in Santa Venetia yesterday.

Hoffer scored 544 to beat out Steve Aker of Greenbrae by 7 points in a close finish.

Less Humphries of Kentfield scored 528 to place third.

Patty (Mrs. Stan) Makinson of Novato was high woman with a strong 506. Other prize winners were Don Graham, San Rafael, 521; Carl Melin, Mill Valley, 513 and Art Burr Sr., San Rafael, 512.

The shoot was well attended and closely contested.

S.R. Little League Registration Next Wednesday, Friday

Mark Brown, president of the San Rafael American Little League, today announced two dates for signups for the 1961 season.

They will be Wednesday and Friday evenings, 7:30 to 8:30 o'clock, at Davidson School. All boys must register, even those who were assigned to teams last year, Brown said.

The president also said each boy must be accompanied to the signups by a parent and must present proof of age. Boys who will have reached the age of 8 and will not have reached 13 by Aug. 1 of this year are eligible.

A $2.50 donation will be asked at the registration to help operate the league, Brown noted.

Rig Sets To Work Organizing Angels

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The Los Angeles Angels, led by Manager Bill Rigney, pitch camp and open their first spring training session tomorrow at Palm Springs.

The Angels, one of the American League's two new clubs, go into camp with 34 men on their own roster, three free agents and three men signed to their Dallas-Fort Worth farm club roster.

With the club having been stocked through a draft of players from the other American League teams, Rigney's squad was predominantly a veteran group.

The average age of the men on the regular squad is 26.9 years with the 14 pitchers averaging 25.5 years, the catchers 29.5 years, the infielders 27.9 and the outfielders 27.8.

Youngest player on the team is infielder Jim Fregosi who is 18 while the oldest is catcher Del Rice who is 38.

The veteran of the pitching staff is Ned Garver who has spent 14 years in the American League. But Rigney also has three 19-year-olds, Bob Sprout, Fred Newman and Dean Chance, on his mound roster.

TOP INFIELD

At the outset of spring training, Rigney has an infield he ranks as being the equal of any in the league with Eddie Yost at third base, Kem Hamlin at shortstop, Ken Aspromonte at second and Ted Kluszewski at first base.

Bob Cerv heads the outfielders who include Jim McAnany, Albie Pearson, Faye Thorneberry and Ken Hunt.

"Every man on the club has the greatest opportunity of his career," Rigney said. "No job is cinched as is the case on the older clubs. Everybody has a clear shot at a job."

Rigney planned one long workout daily, starting Sunday at 10 a.m. at the Palm Springs' Polo Grounds. The daily drills continue until the Angels open their 26-game exhibition schedule against the Chicago Cubs March 11.

CARACAS TOURNEY

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Roberto de Vicenzo's 65 gave him a 3-stroke lead in the first round of the Caracas Golf Open yesterday.

Meschery Top League Scorer And Rebounder

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — St. Mary's basketball ace Tom Meschery leads the West Coast Athletic Conference today in scoring and rebounding.

The 6-foot-6 senior has averaged 21.3 points for the Gaels' seven conference games. He has taken 88 rebounds for a 14.5 average.

Ken Stanley of University of the Pacific ranks second in both categories with a scoring average of 19.5 and 58 rebounds for a 12.7 average.

Ed Bento of Loloya ranks third in scoring with a 17.7 average and first in free throw accuracy with 81.4 per cent on 61 of 75. His Loyola teammates, Brian Quinn and Jerry Grote, rank second and third in free throws with 78.6 and 76.4 per cent averages.

DONS ON TOP

Although the University of San Francisco leads the league with a 6-1 mark compared with 8-2 for Loyola, USF ranks no better than third in any team statistic.

St. Mary's (5-2) leads in total offense, averaging 72.4 points per game, and in field goal percentage with 197 of 410 for a 48.1 shooting average.

San Jose State (3-5) has the best defensive mark, allowing foes only 46.3 points per game. Loyola has the best free throw percentage with 69.9 on 192 of 275. The Lions also lead in rebounding with a 52.5 per cent average.

Bill Mazeroski of the Pittsburgh Pirates was the only National League second baseman to take part in more than 87 double plays last season. Maz was in on 127 DPs.

SPECIAL CONDITIONING

Eager Vets Check Into Training Camps Early

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Although the spring training season is just starting, veteran ball players apparently can't wait to get into camp—where the meals may be skimpy for overweight athletes, but they are free.

Among yesterday's early arrivals were Willie McCovey, who reported with the first contingent of the San Francisco Giants at Phoenix although he's not due until Monday, and Brooks Robinson of the Baltimore Orioles.

Robinson, seven pounds overweight, is one of 10 Oriole infielders and outfielders who joined the squad at Miami in advance of the March 1 reporting date to receive special conditioning. McCovey, rookie of the year in 1959, wants to keep his weight at the present 202 pounds.

McCovey was one of 14 Giants who reported to their new manager, Al Dark. Pitchers Mike McCormick and Stu Miller and catcher Hobie Landrith were the only other regulars.

Sixteen Cincinnati Reds' pitchers turned out for the opening workouts at Tampa and Manager Fred Hutchinson said one or two may become starting pitchers. Best bet appears to be Joey Jay, who came from Milwaukee in a trade. Hutchinson figures on Bob Purkey, Jim O'Toole, Jay Hook and Jim Maloney as regular starters.

The champion Pittsburgh Pirates had only one player, first baseman Dick Stuart, still unsigned as their batterymen began drills at Fort Myers, Fla.

Two of the top rookie prospects in the New York Yankees camp aren't expected to make the team this year unless they can show enough to catch on as regulars. Pedro "Speedy" Gonzales, 22, a second baseman, has lived up to his impressive minor league record so far, but he probably will wind up with the Richmond, Va., farm club, where he can play every day. His camp roommate, catcher Jesse Gonder, is more or less in the same position.

The Milwaukee Braves, opening their camp for batterymen today with veterans Lew Burdette and Don McMahon still unsigned, indicated they're still after relief specialist Dick Farrell of the Phils.

Fullmer Flattens Sparring Partner

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — Gene Fullmer, the middleweight champion of the world, knocked a sparring partner, Wiley Johnson of Chicago, off his feet yesterday for his March 4 title defense against Sugar Ray Robinson.

Fullmer went two rounds with Johnson and two more with Nathan Ish, Phoenix, Ariz.

Fullmer wore a face guard and a football helmet.

New Fullerton Coach

MISSOULA, Mont., (UPI)—Harold (Hal) Sherbeck will become head football coach at Fullerton, Calif., Junior College next fall.

He resigned yesterday as head baseball coach at Montana State University. His resignation is effective at the end of June after the coming baseball season.

Russian River Last To Clear For Steelheading After Heavy Rains

STEVENS

I just received a clipping from one of our large local papers, in which the outdoor writer stated in his column, concerning steelhead fishing, that the Russian River is the first stream to return to normal after a hard rain and that all other streams take about two additional days to return to normal.

Too bad! Quite the reverse is true. The Russian is frequently a full week late in clearing. ALL OTHER STREAMS become prime well in advance of the Russian.

As a rule, the Garcia becomes prime first of all the main steelhead streams along the north coast. Other streams such as the Gualala, Navarro, Ten Mile, Big and Little and Noya, as well as the Eel and the south fork of that river usually follow within a day or two.

Tuesday afternoon I checked with my contacts by phone and here is the status:

THE GARCIA lowered and cleared (enough for fishing) Monday. Ernie Titus of the Garcia Hotel at Point Arena, one of the most ardent steelhead fishermen extant, lamented the fact that while the Garcia was in fishable state, the fish were nearly non-existant. Only a few steelhead were caught and all of them were downstreamers.

THE GUALALA was not quite prime Tuesday morning and that goes for the Navarro and the Ten Mile (above Fort Bragg). At present there is no threat of rain in the offing, so we may assume that by the time you read this, all the streams from the Salmon near the town of Bay, to the Eeel at Fortuna, will be fishable (always with the understanding that we have no heavy rains between now and then). But that does not include the Russian except in the upper reaches, say around Cloverdale, where some action may be expected.

OKAY, THAT'S that. Now for a look-see at what's what with the "silver horde." Unless we miss our guess, we are having the best first week of open season, on salmon trolling in the ocean, we have had in many years. I have mentioned the fair to good opening day, Saturday, in a former column. Now I am happy to add that Sunday was much better. In fact limit catches were the rule aboard all boats out of the Berkeley Harbor, San Francisco and Sausalito.

Ray Anderson of the Whirlaway announced over his ship-to-shore radiophone, that he was heading for the barn with limits all around at 12:05 p.m. on Monday. Most of the boats were back with limits in all harbors by 2:30. Fish seem to be running in the 10 to 12-pound class with an occasional lunker being gaffed to bring up the average.

MANNY FERNANDEZ of the Hayward Fisheries, who fishes out of Monterey on one of the Chris' salmon boats, reported two salmon per person on Sunday in that area—fish of good size, too.

I forgot to mention that the great majority of salmon caught locally came from the Duxbury Reef region the past three days. No information of the locale off Monterey and Santa Cruz.

Space is about used up for today, so will report on striper striving and catfish catches tomorrow.

Floyd Dazed In Last Bout, Referee Says

NEW YORK (UPI) — Referee Arthur Mercante says Ingemar Johansson really hurt Floyd Patterson in the second round of their second title fight last June and might have knocked him out had Ingo been more alert.

Mercante, who refereed the bout, said Floyd "had that glazed look in his eyes again," when nailed in the forehead by a hard right.

Patterson stated recently he wasn't hurt and had staggered merely to trap Johansson into "coming in."

In their first fight, in 1959, Ingo floored Patterson seven times in the third round for a knockout and the title. Floyd unprecedentedly recaptured the title last June by rallying from the second-round jolt and flooring Ingo twice for a knockout in the fifth round.

FAST RIGHT

"Floyd was hurt in their second fight by the right to the forehead in the second round," says Mercante. "It was one of the fastest rights I ever saw. His eyes were glazed, but he was still rational enough to retreat — instead of trying to hold."

Young Bill Fugazy, president of Feature Sports, Inc., announced today that Max Schmeling of Germany, former heavyweight champion, is scheduled to arrive in New York next Tuesday enroute to Miami Beach for the third Patterson-Johansson fight, March 13.

Although Schmeling is reportedly strictly neutral, some New York friends believe he will give Ingemar some pointers in camp at Palm Beach, Fla., on how to beat Floyd again.

Hugh Bell led Yonkers Raceway harness drivers by a wide margin in 1960. He rode 75 winners, 30 more than Jimmy Cruise who was second best.

YACHTING NOTES

Sausalito Firm Sold Five Boats At Show

By ALFRED MATSON

One of the outstanding attractions at the recent Sports and Boat Show in San Francisco was the exhibit of the Sheldon Boat Sales of Sausalito.

On display were the 33-foot Swiftsure and 26-foot Polaris of the Seafarer fleet of fibre glass boats. The line of yachts, nine in all, run the gamut from the 45-foot Seafarer to the 22-foot Kestrel; built in Holland from the designs of America's top naval architects. Many a local sailor displayed far more than a casual interest in the yachts as presented.

In fact, five of the 28-foot Rhodes Rangers were sold, one 38-foot Javelin and veteran yachtsman Gordon Strawbridge of Sausalito purchased a Swiftsure, 33-footer. Howie Ellis, Sheldon sales manager, also announced the acquisition of the White Squall by Susan Lycett of San Francisco.

The White Squall, a 47-foot cutter, built up an enviable reputation on her former home waters of Lake Ontario and could well be a hot competitor in Cruising Club "B."

The name of Dr. Emmet Rixford has long been linked with the Bird class fleet and his Kittiwake has always been a top contender in every race. But the desire for more legroom had the good doctor casting about and he seems to have found his dream boat.

It is the Rocking Chair III, a Lapworth designed 46-foot sloop that, in the four years since being launched, has well proved her sailing qualities against the tough competition of southern California's worthy fleet.

Dr. Rixford and a local crew departed from San Pedro yesterday and headed up the coast for her new home port, the Belvedere harbor of the San Francisco Yacht Club.

Here Is Colt Sign-up Data For Marin

Sign up dates for the Marin County Colt League have been announced by Tony Telegin, finance chairman.

Telegin said that boys signing up for the baseball league must be accompanied by a parent and have a birth certificate in their possession when they come to register. He added that Twin Cities sign ups may include boys in the Kentfield, Ross and Greenbrae areas if these boys attend either Redwood or Marin Catholic high schools.

Dates, places and times for sign ups are as follows.

Tiburon - Belvedere: Reed School, 12 to 1 p.m., Feb. 25 and March 4.

Sausalito: Sausalito fire house, 10 to 1 p.m., Feb. 25 and March 4.

Mill Valley: Edna McGuire School 10 to 1 p.m., Feb. 25 and March 4.

Twin Cities: Corte Madera fire house, 10 to 1 p.m., Feb. 25 and March 4.

Strawberry: Strawberry Pt. School, 10 to 1 p.m., Feb. 25 and March 4.

Drake Quint Defeated By Gal Redheads

By STEVE ANDERSON

The All-American Red-Heads girls basketball team disaproved the old belief that the male is the stronger sex by downing the Drake High School faculty 55-53 in a double overtime at the Drake gym on Tuesday night.

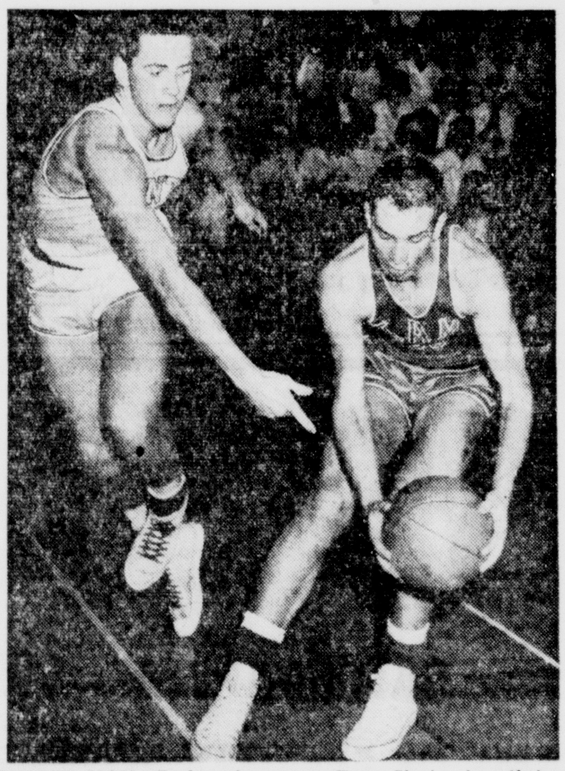
The Red-Heads' Justine Glover's driving lay-in in the sudden death second overtime spelled the end of the stronger sex myth.

Drake sent the game into overtime on Vince Boyle's tap-in with only seconds left and into sudden death on Verle Sorgen's long set with five seconds remaining in the first overtime.

In the sudden death, the Drake men had a chance to avert the defeat when they controlled the tip-off, but a ball handling error set up the Red-Head victory.

22 FOR JUSTINE

The Red-Heads' Justine Glover topped all scorers with 22 points, mostly on lay-ins. Shelby Tedder also hit double figres for the girls with 16. George "Spider" Geister led the faculty with 18. Boyle followed with six. Ted Nagle and Verle Sorgen topped the faculty rebounders and 6-foot-2 Red-Head center Joyce Webster led the girls.



FINGER MAN—Redwood reserve Tom Clark played the role of finger man for the Giants as he indicated "I want that thing!" But Tam's Connie Hoetger wouldn't listen as he pivoted and passed off to teammate.

USC's Big Gun Rudometkin Still Leads Cage Scoring

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Big John Rudometkin is still first in individual scoring and second in rebounding in Big Five basketball statistics.

The 6-6 junior, main propellant behind Southern California's league-leading 6-2 record, has a 25.1 point average on 76 field goals and 49 free throws.

California's Bill McClintock has the top rebound mark with 93. Rudometkin has 92.

Behind Rudometkin in the scoring are Washington's Bill Hanson with a 15.5 average, USC's Chris Appel with a 14.5 pace and Stanford's John Windsor with a 14.0 average.

Ed Corell of Washington has the most accurate field goal percentage with 45 of 83 for .542.

Washington runs 1-2-3 in this department, Clint Names hitting .520 on 53 of 102 and Earle Irvine at an even .500 on 15 of 30.

Stanford's John Hendry has an .882 free throw percentage on 15 of 17, with Washington's Roger Niva second on 35 of 40 and .875.

Southern California is the team scoring leader, averaging 69 points per game. UCLA ranks second at 63.

Washington has allowed 58 points a game, the conference's top defensive average. California is next at 59, Stanford third at 60.

The Huskies also lead in team shooting from the floor, 219 of 431 for a .455 average. USC has 195 of 490 for .398.

In free throws too, it's Washington on 176 of 232 good for a .763 clip, followed by the Trojans at 160 of 210 for .762.

LATEST IN RING WEAR

Dominican Girl Named Finalist In Merit Program

Marcia Noltner, a senior at Dominican Convent Upper School in San Rafael, has been named a finalist in the 1960-61 National Merit Scholarship Program competition and has been awarded a certificate of merit.

Sister M. Maurice, O.P., principal, announced that the certificate attests to Marcia's high academic promise. She attained her finalist status by her distinguished performance on two tests and endorsement by the school.

Merit scholars will be selected from among 9,800 finalists in 50 states and announced on April 27. They will win scholarships.

Marcia lives in San Francisco and is formerly of Washington, D.C.

Three other seniors received letters of commendation. They are Carol Lyons of San Rafael, Pamela Price of Kentfield, and Brooke Skinner of Ross.

Jockey John Sellers won three Chicago stakes races in 1960, all with T. V. Lark.

HOMES INSPECTIONS PLANNED

Rigorous Training Program Started For Hub Firemen

By JOHN CHAMBERS

San Anselmo has started a rigorous in-service training program for its 16 fulltime firemen and is planning to establish a separate fire prevention bureau.

Every fireman will receive seven hours drill and instruction for 30 days. The training lessons are being conducted by the department's four fire captains.

Fire Chief Nello Marcucci said that Asst. Chief Frank Sousa will head the fire prevention bureau. He will be accompanied on his inspections by almost the entire shift of firemen. Only one man—the dispatcher—will be left at fire headquarters.

Souza said he plans to inspect every residence and commercial building in San Anselmo as a start to his fire prevention program.

He said he hopes to begin the inspections when weather permits—probably in the spring.

"We will start with the residences first," Sousa explained. "We will give each home owner advance notice of when we plan to inspect his house." He plans to inspect commercial buildings afterwards.

Sousa added that by taking the firemen along on inspections they get to know what hazards to look for and become better acquainted with the layout of the streets. Sousa worked as a building inspector several years in addition to his duties as fireman. One fire engine and approximately four firemen will accompany Sousa on the inspection tours.

It is the department's second attempt in two years to set up a fire prevention bureau. In January, 1959, Sousa's brother, Fireman William Sousa, was sent to the Santa Rosa Fire Department by Chief Marcucci to get pointers on establishing a fire prevention section.

Although the San Anselmo bureau never really got started, Sousa said he plans to use much of the literature accumulated by his brother in setting up a new bureau.

The fire prevention program is part of the followup training program planned for San Anselmo firemen, according to City Administrator Douglas J. Flautt.

The main program which started last month includes three hours of instruction every morning starting at 9 a.m. and four hours of drill from 1 to 5 p.m. in the afternoon.

Firemen are trained in working with ladders, respirators, fire extinguishers and hydrants, laying out lines, knot tying and various fire fighting techniques.

Lectures by the fire captains are supplimented by motion pictures from San Francisco Fire Department and the state fire marshall's office.

Examinations are given at the end of each week and a final exam is scheduled about the middle of March. The grades will be made a part of each fireman's record.

BLIMP BALLAST SCORES DIRECT HIT ON AUTO

COSTA MESA (AP)—When a Navy blimp dumped some ballast water, scoring a direct hit on a sports car, the result was a pretty unhappy sports car driver.

William A. Skiles, 29, yesterday demanded an apology and $1.50 for a car wash. He charged his car was drenched with "dirty bilge water" Sunday as he and his wife watched the antics of ducks on Newport Harbor's upper bay.

After the water-bombing, Skiles admittedly tried to hit the offending aircraft with a rock. His wife, Marilyn, estimated the rock was "about 900 feet short of its target."

Last night the Navy replied informally through a member of the blimp's crew.

"It was clean ballast water," said Al Milmant. "We change it every day. We developed engine trouble and had to dump ballast to get rid of extra weight.

"But if Skiles will drive over to the Marine Corps air facility at Santa Ana, we'll be happy to give him a free car wash."

Youth, 15, Who Killed Parents Due In Court

WEAVERVILLE (AP) — Daryl Moss, 15, an honor student and considered by many to be a model youth, was scheduled for arraignment today, charged with murder in the slaying of his parents.

Dist. Atty. Don Kennedy of Trinity County said Daryl would then be sent to Mendocino State Hospital for psychiatric observation.

The youth killed his parents early yesterday with a rifle, beat a young woman over the head with the rifle, then left his home with $438 belonging to his Boy Scout troop and to the Mormon church of which his father, Veril Moss, 45, was an elder.

Arrested an hour later, he confessed calmly, ate a big breakfast, then went to sleep.

Jean Ann Taylor, 20, the girl who lived with the Moss family and was beaten by Daryl, was recovering today at Weaverville Hospital.

Daryl was popular at the high school and in the community of Lewiston where they lived. The father was an engineer employed by the Bureau of Reclamation and working on Trinity Dam.

Sheriff Harold Wilson said Daryl told him that he hated his father and didn't like his mother either.

The Ethiopian Church, related to the Coptic Church of Egypt, holds to the doctrine that Christ had a single nature instead of being both divine and human.

El Marinero Honors Good Citizen Winners

Five outstanding Marin County high school senior girls were presented with DAR Good Citizen pins at a tea given by El Marinero Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, at the home of Mrs. Preston Anselm Jones in San Rafael.

Mrs. Kenneth R. Gregory, regent, introduced Mrs. Robert Y. Horine, state chairman of DAR Good Citizens, who complimented the winners for their dependability, service, leadership and patriotism.

Mothers of the girls pinned on their daughters the corsages given by the chapter, and stood with them while Mrs. Horine told of the selection of the girls, who were nominated by their female classmates and selected by the faculty of their respective high schools. Mothers and daughters were Mesdames N. C. Nelsen and Karen from Sir Francis Drake; Paul Daly and Paula from Redwood; Chester F. Pemble and Janet from San Rafael High; Neal Busch and Lorraine from Tamalpais and William F. Brewster and Jo Ann from Tomales.

This was the second year that Mrs. Brewster had an award winning daughter; her older daughter was one of last year's winners. Also present was Miss Gwendolyn Gibson, dean of girls at Tomales High, who has been at each pin presentation for the past five years, with a winner from her school.

Red, white and blue flowers, a picture of George Washington, and a birthday cake frosted in the same colors marked the 12th aniversary of El Marinero Chapter.

Pouring were past regents of the chapter, Mesdames Rodney B. Hartman, Vera Haffly Harlan, J. Lee Chaile and Dr. Eugenia G. Campbell. Mrs. Cecil Miller, second vice regent was in charge of arrangements, and hostesses were Mesdames Earl P. Bartholomew, Robert E. Munter, Bruno L. Ercolini, Christian J. Matthew, Roger P. Garety, Georgianna Gabb, Harlan and Richard E. Mittelstaedt.

The program was given by Nancy and Dixie Piver, daughters of Mrs. Arthur L. Piver who played ballads and folk songs, old and new, on banjo and guitar, accompanying their tuneful duets. Nancy also accompanied her sister's singing on the piano.

Guests were Mesdames William Rattray; Herbert G. Pratt; Towner Buckley; Homer Hood; Herbert K. Walton Jr.; Melvin Stidham; Herbert Dubenhorst; Mrs. E. G. Girvin, mother of Mrs. Jones and a member of Ann Washington Chapter DAR of Mt. Vernon, Washington; Robert Gardner, a member of Los Altos Chapter, DAR, and her daughter, Mrs. Earl W. Homan of Belvedere, and Mrs. Willard Hinkley, sister of Mrs. Chaille.

Girl Scouts Meet Interesting People In Program Activities

Acting as hostesses, or being guests, Girl Scouts meet interesting people throughout Marin County.

Marinwood Intermediate Scout Troop 289 invited Troop 261 to hear two foreign exchange students speak at their meeting at Mary Silveira School this month.

Rosario Lorca of Madrid, Spain, a student this term at the Katharine Branson School, and Jacqueline Marterer of Le Man, France, attending Redwood High School, spoke to the Scouts about the differences between our school system and theirs.

They also told about their countries and customs. Rosario and Jacqueline will return to their homes in June, when they will both continue their studies by majoring in languages and philosophy. Mrs. Albert Adatto is leader of Troop 289 and Mrs. Edwin Lewin is leader of Troop 261.

As part of their study of world friendship, the 14 members of Mill Valley Brownie Troop 78 visited Mrs. Axel Gravander, a native of Sweden. Besides seeing her collection of Swedish mementos, Mrs. Gravander showed the girls how to spin yarn on her spinning wheel, and then how the yarn is used on a loom to weave material. The second graders were intrigued by the fact that this particular yarn was made by spinning the hairs from an Afghan Hound. Accompanying the Park School Brownies were their leader Mrs. Dino Esposti, and Mrs. James Stevenson and Mrs. Lin Frasson.

Miniature trees blooming with red felt hearts brightened the trays on Valentine's Day at Ross General Hospital, thanks to Brownie Troop 140 of Larkspur. When they delivered the tray favors, the fourth graders toured the hospital with dietician Mrs. Shirlie Page, and saw the laboratory, kitchen and laundry room, besides enjoying a treat of ice cream and cookies. Their leaders are Mrs. M. R. McCarty and Mrs. Scott Strathairn.

Accompanying Brownie Troop 199 of Corte Madera to visit a bakery in San Rafael, were their leaders, Mesdames Paul Gray, Robert West and E. Moreland Thompson. Highlights of the tour were seeing the big mixing machines, ovens, cream puffs being made, and how cakes were decorated.

The Brownies recently invited their mothers to a Mother-Daughter Tea at the home of Mrs. Gray, making cookies, carnation corsages and the invitations themselves.

Scholastic Honors

Pamela Jeanne Muse, daughter of Maj. and Mrs. B. F. Muse of San Rafael, who is a senior at Lake Erie College, Painesville, Ohio, was awarded the faculty citation for scholarly distinction. The citation was made on the basis of her academic performance in the fall term.

Work Dates To Ready Arequipa

Saturday work parties have been arranged to ready Arequipa, Fairfax, for use as a Day Camp this summer by the Marin Girl Scout Council. Each Neighborhood has been assigned a special work day, although additional adult help will be welcomed on any of the workdays, between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m.

Scheduled for future Saturdays are:

Feb. 25: Terra Linda and Marinwood Neighborhoods;

March 18: Santa Venetia, Novato and Fairfax Neighborhoods;

April 22: Sausalito, Hamilton Air Force Base, and Corte Madera-Larkspur Neighborhoods;

May 20: Mill Valley, Tiburon Peninsula and Kentfield-Greenbrae-Ross Neighborhoods; and June 17: San Anselmo and San Rafael.

Saturday's work party will prune the trees and bushes and clear the unit sites along the fire road. March and April plans call for piping the water lines to unit sites, while May and June will find the volunteers wielding paint brushes. The spraying for poison oak will go on every work day.

Members of the work parties are asked to bring their own tools and lunch, with coffee being served. A special request for a chain saw has been made for Saturday's pruning. Any further information can be obtained at the Girl Scout office, 739 A Street, San Rafael, or from the neighborhood chairmen.

Surprise Bread

Surprise hot bread: fill muffin pans about a quarter full of muffin batter. Add a tablespoon of chopped dates and walnuts; fill muffin pans with more batter so they are two-thirds to three-quarters full. Bake as usual.

Edna Maguire 8th Grade Dance

Mill Valley's Edna Maguire School eighth grade will hold a P-TA sponsored dance tomorrow from 8 to 10 o'clock at Park School Auditorium.

Sponsoring classes will be those of Mrs. Suzanne Warren and James Martin. Mrs. Warren Young, chairman, announces that music will be by records.

Chaperones for the evening are Messrs. and Mesdames Edward Schulman, George A. Lowe, R. E. Howell, F. M. Lauritzen, W. H. Young, Ted Young, Dr. and Mrs. Donald Gallagher and Mesdames Wesley Smith and Edith Buchholz.

Parents are being requested to pick up children promptly at 10 p.m. at the close of the dance.

Marin Women

'FLIGHT' THEME FOR VIEW SHOW

On a Friendship Flight from here to there, you won't want to worry about what-to-wear, where!

Consequently, "Fashions With A View" takes all the guesswork out of the situation on Thursday at the Ondine's delightful fashion luncheon which every week attracts prominent, fashion-minded women from all parts of the Bay Area.

Fashions with that fond, friendly feeling for 44 pounds and a suitcase have been happily gathered by a San Francisco shop to take the by-guess and by-golly out of gadding abroad, or galivanting at home!

Indications point to a fashionable flight buoyant with colorful coats for London town, smart city suits for the Rue de la Pais, and evening elegance for Rome after dark, not forgetting knowledgable knits, town and country casuals, and sun-day best for warm-day wanderlust.

Inspiration for Thursday's jaunty journey comes from the special "guest with a viewpoint," Marin's Peggy Wilberg who will be guiding her exciting European Friendship Tour to 11 countries leaving San Francisco on April 17 and returning 51 days later.

An attractive Swiss Air hostess will announce the departure of Thursday's fashion flight at 12:30, with reservations made by calling the Ondine in Sausalito.

Show Proceeds To Benefit Church

Thornton Wilder's riotous burlesque of civilization, "The Skin of Our Teeth," will be performed tomorrow evening at 8:30, to benefit the Sleepy Hollow Presbyterian Church.

The popular comedy, now in its fifth month of production at The Theatre, Bolinas Avenue at Kensington Road, San Anselmo, is scheduled to close in three performances on March 11. Tickets are still available for all three final performances. The funds raised by the Friday benefit will be used to landscape the Sleepy Hollow Church grounds. Tickets for the special event may be purchased from Mrs. Richard Godfrey; from Mrs. Edward Stein, or by calling the Rev. John Bruce at the Church. Tickets will also be available at the door the night of the performance.

PHOTOGRAPHED at their wedding reception were Charles Oliver Sahl and his bride, the former Patricia Ann Rushworth. They were married at St. Anselm's Church and the wedding reception took place at the Officers' Club at Hamilton Air Force Base. (Photo by Philip J. Planert)

Newlywed Sahls Are San Rafael Residents

Address of the newly married Mr. and Mrs. Charles Oliver Sahl is 143 Jewell St., San Rafael. The bride, the former Patricia Ann Rushworth, is the daughter of Lt. Comdr. and Mrs. John Rushworth of Ross.

The young couple exchanged vows at a nuptial mass at St. Anselm's Church in Ross, Rev. Donald Kelly officiating at the double ring rites. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a white silk and lace gown, princess styled. The upper part of the bodice and the three quarter length sleeves were lace. The coronet holding the fingertip length veil was more than a hundred years old. On it were more than 500 tiny pearls, hand sewn. White roses were in the bride's bouquet.

Only attendent for her sister was Diane Susan Rushworth, who wore a blue taffeta gown and matching veil with velvet flowers. Yellow roses were in her bouquet.

James Robert Howard of Corte Madera was best man.

The Officers Club at Hamilton Air Force Base was the locale of the wedding reception. Decorations there were similar to those at the church, white gladioli, stock and snapdragons. The bride's younger sister, Mary Rushworth, was in charge of the guest book.

The three tiered wedding cake was topped by a miniature bridal couple. When the newlyweds left for the honeymoon at Carmel the bride was wearing a lilac wool suit and lilac flowered hat. She had an orchid corsage.

For the wedding the bride's mother wore a pale green satin brocade suit with matching satin hat and accessories. White roses were in her corsage. The bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Frank Sahl of Glens Falls N. Y. were unable to attend the wedding.

The new bededict served four years in the Marine Corps, two of these in Italy. He and Patricia met when her father was stationed there. She attended school in Italy and is a graduate of San Rafael High School. She attended San Francisco State College for two years and tomorrow will be graduated from Bay City College for Dental Assistants. She has a young brother, John Rushworth, and is the granddaughter of Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Rushworth of San Francisco.

The new benedict is the brother of Nancy, Lilian, Janet, Marie, Suzie, Pamela Jean and Joseph Sahl. He is the grandson of Mrs. Oliver Taionde of Cambridge, Mass., and Mrs. Alva Sahl of San Francisco.

Tickets for the March 9 premiere of "Bus Stop" may be obtained from Mrs. Rivers and any Auxiliary member.

Expert Says Dogs Ruined By Bad Management Of Owners

NEW YORK (AP)—Dogs are introverts and extroverts just like people, says Bob Bartos, en expert on canine character. Some, in fact, grow into four-legged facsimiles of their owners.

"I have a feeling," Bartos says seriously, "that a dog that gets too human can be a little dishonest. He knows what he's supposed to do, and he knows that you know he knows. But he's come to like the soft life, and wants to do everything the easy way."

Basically, dogs are very much what you allow them to be, says Bartos, a professional handler, specialty judge and manager of a big research kennel in the Pacific Northwest.

"With 114 recognized breeds, of all sizes, shapes and dispositions, you can't make flat statements about dogs temperaments any more than you can about human nationalities.

"It's true a highstrung, frenetic woman can make a nervous wreck out of a lot of animals, but a phlegmatic basset, for example, probably wouldn't be bothered."

Bringing up dogs is very much like raising children, he explains. The most important things are patience, consistency and good management. "And no one is worse for a dog, or a child, than a person who is undecided. You've got to make sure he understands exactly what you want him to do, and then make sure it does every time."

But Bartos, who has raised three children and innumerable dogs, says we expect too much of our dogs — and children, too.

"We expect them to adjust immediately to every situation. This is the worst thing in the world to do. He has to be prepared gradually. If you do have an extrovert who takes readily to crowds, he may have other faults. Sometimes dogs who are the hardest to train retain the training longer. Impatience is an owner's worst fault."

Bartos' experience with dogs goes back to childhood. His parents raised German shepherds as a hobby. He began raising terriers, and the dour, dignified Scotty is still his favorite breed.

In 1947 he went into dog nutrition work. "Since World War II tremendous strides have been made in research."

But proper diet is only one part of good management, which Bartos says can make or break a dog. "More doges are ruined by bad management than by bad breeding."

Novato Teacher To Wed In March

Of interest in Marin is the engagement of Jane Henderson of Alameda, a teacher in the Novato schools, and Dr. Louis Bartolucci of San Francisco.

The engagement was announced recently at a party in the home of the prospective bride's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Ernest Henderson in Alameda.

The bride-elect was graduated from the University of California where she was a member of Delta Gamma Sorority.

The prospective benedict received his M.D. at the University of Perugia, Italy, and is now completing his residency at Children's Hospital in San Francisco.

The wedding will be an event of March.

Second 'U.S. Image Abroad' Series Planned On Tuesday

Second in a series of lectures on "The U.S. Image Abroad" sponsored by the Mill Valley Branch of the American Association of University Women will be open to the public Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the parish hall of the Mill Valley Community Church.

Dr. Donald Brandon, assistant professor of political science at the University of San Francisco, will speak on "The Role of the Voices of America in the Formation of America's Image Abroad."

Many of Dr. Brandon's publications have been used in a study of the effectiveness of the Voices of America conducted by three branch members, Mesdames Robert C. Morgan, Joseph A. Fuller and Charles J. Hunter. On learning of Dr. Brandon's presence in the area they persuaded him to talk at this February general meeting of the branch, which has been opened to the public because of its wide current interest.

Dr. Brandon earned his bachelor's, master's and doctorate degrees from the University of California in Berkeley. He has had wide experience which includes association with the U.S. military government, working as a staff writer on the "Portland Oregonian," working with the office for the Central Intelligence Agency, office of National Estimates, and with the U.S. Embassy of the cultural attache in Bonn, West Germany.

At present he is working on a book to be published this spring entitled "America's Role in World Affairs." He appeared recently on David Susskind's highly praised "Open End" program, seen over station KQED-TV.

Members are invited to bring friends.

'Rally 'Round Party' Theme For Informally Yours Show

'Rally 'round the party—The Republic for which we stand—Task Force for '62—are some of the slogans of the Republican Women of Marin on the march as they look forward to the years ahead.

An active group, headed by Mrs. Mathew Graham, they convene each month for business meetings and luncheons when the organization's future informational, educational, recreational projects are discussed.

On Wednesday, March 1, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Harry Diner, assisted by Mrs. Henry Sherry, the group will be welcomed at Bob's of Marin for fashions 'Informally Yours' with luncheon.

Geared to "Tomorrow's Fashions Today" by Sara Campbell, high style costumes for city and country will be shown by a San Rafael women's apparel shop at the 12:30 o'clock affair.

In the role of model at the March 1 luncheon-fashion event honoring Marin's Republican Women, from the sponsoring group, will be Mesdames: John DeMuth, William Walker, Henry Sherry, Melvin Stidham and Gordon Ness.

Also stepping into the spotlight of fashion at Wednesday's luncheon will be Mesdames: Corky Jones, Alvin Harris, Norman Sanguinetti, William Donohoe, John Hackney Jr., George Coburn, and William Morrisey III.

Reservations for "Tomorrow's Fashions Today" to benefit the Republican Women of Marin, to which the public is extended an invitation, may be made by calling Bob's of Marin.

'RALLY 'ROUND THE PARTY' will be the theme as exemplified by, from left, Mesdames John DeMuth and William Walker, when the Republican Women of Marin are welcomed on Wednesday, March 1 at the "Informally Yours" luncheon at Bob's of Marin in Corte Madera. The fashion-luncheon will begin at 12:30 o'clock. (Independent-Journal photo)

Auxiliary Stuffs Envelopes For Civil Defense

The members of the Donald V. Westlund Auxiliary of Veterans of Foreign Wars, No. 7816, of Novato, have been busy for the past several days stuffing envelopes for Civil Defense organization. The literature will be in the mail at the end of this week, or next.

There were 36,000 pieces to be stuffed in 6,000 envelopes, supposedly the number of homes in Novato. The members worked after their meeting last week, and also at the last two coffees which are held on Tuesday mornings. It took them a total of 35 man hours. Working on the project were: Mesdames Louis Cavallero; Harold Barker; Ralph Eckhardt; Chas. Field; Rubin Hendrickson; Aloys Jordan; Jack Owen; Ernest Laxton; Grover Owen; Frank Rebello; George Scherba; Chas. Thompson; Virgil Westlund; Thomas Wiggin; Paul Scheller, and Mrs. Clarence Cook, who is Civil Defense chairman for the auxiliary.

Another project the members are working on is a toy cart for the new Novato hospital. A grocery cart was purchased and will be lined, and filled with toys that can be washed and sterilized, and wheeled to the children convalescing in the hospital.

Garden Club Spring Bazaar Set April 7, 8

Mrs. Walter Simmonds, Indian Valley Road, was appointed co-chairman of the Novato Garden Club's Spring Bazaar to be held April 7 and 8 at the Brice Market in the Nave Shopping Center.

Mrs. Simonds will serve with Mrs. Robin Cannon in preparing flats and shrubs and in making arrangements for the bazaar which will include booths operated by all interested civic and church groups.

Mrs. William Cole donated more of her Japanese golden bamboo and Mrs. Kenneth Collins is potting bush pom pom chrysanthemums as her contribution. In response to an appeal for house plants Mrs. Ross Rogers gave a number of her choice African violets. Baby leaf ivy and prayer plant also has been given by others.

Youth Accent On BPW Club Party March 8

"Accent on Youth" is the theme of the benefit party to be given by the Business and Professional Women's Club of Marin County on Wednesday night, March 8. Proceeds will go to the club's Alice Brewer Wells gift scholarship fund. The scholarship is awarded each year to a high school senior for higher education.

Mrs. Ada (William D.) Fusselman, scholarship chairman, said that five homes will be opened for the benefit, those of Elsie Mazzini, Virginia Shattuck, Lenore Melton, Marjorie Grusser and Anna Kosta. The evening will begin with dessert served at 7:30. Bridge and other card games will follow. Prizes will be awarded for each table. All reservations should be made with Mrs. Fusselman, 223 San Anselmo Avenue, San Anselmo so that members and guests can be routed to the homes nearest them.

Serving with Mrs. Fusselman on the party committee are Helen Krause, club president; Vesta Hayden, Lenore Melton, Mabelle Culpepper and Edith Sackrison. On the scholarship committee are Mrs. Fusselman, Letha Jenkins, Maude Gardner, Dorothy Olsen and Mrs. Krause.

Spaghetti Dinner Is Planned By Mothers' Guild

Our Lady of Loretto Mothers' Guild of Novato is planning a spaghetti dinner on March 12 in the parish hall from 4:30 to 6:30 p.m.

The proceeds from the dinner will go toward furnishing the sixth grade class room. Mesdames Albert Olivier, Eric Selberg and Carlos Rivamonte are co-chairmen.

Mesdames Joseph Salmina, Alvin Butti, Edward Lorenzini will be in charge of food. Claude Hancock and Mrs. Fabian Bobo will be the chefs. Mrs. Joseph Mooch is in charge of decorations and Mrs. Louis Skronek, hostesses.

Ticket chairman, Mrs. Arthur Pedroli announces that tickets will be on sale after Sunday masses and may be secured from any Guild member.

How to

OUTWIT YOUR APPETITE

Try The Profile Bread Method Of "Planned Nibbling" To Help Avoid Overeating At The Table And Going On Wild Calorie Binges Between Meals

IF you want to avoid overeating at meals, or avoid going on hog-wild calorie binges between meals—then the "Profile Bread Method" to outwit your appetite may prove most helpful.

Because the Profile Bread Method depends upon "planned nibbling"—a dietetic approach to the problem of overeating.

"PLANNED NIBBLING"

Remember what your mother used to say: "Don't eat it now, it will spoil your dinner."

Many dieticians recognize the same principle in "planned nibbling." Which means eating about 150 calories of any carbohydrate-protein food about 30 minutes before a meal. Or, when tempted, between meals. The carbohydrate acts fast; the protein keeps working longer.

Try a tablespoonful of sugar in a half glass of skim milk. Or a couple of slices of Profile Bread. Or a slice of Profile with jam on it. Anything light that spoils your appetite and keeps you from overeating at the table or between meals.

PROFILE BREAD

Profile Bread contains about 40% more complete protein than many white breads. It's flecked with tiny bits of cracked wheat and the flavor is fine—plain or toasted.

In addition, Profile Bread is fortified with calcium, phosphorus, iron and Vitamins B_1, B_2 and niacin, and has about 65 calories per slice. For "planned nibbling" you may find Profile Bread ideal.

Get a loaf of Profile Bread fresh at your favorite grocer's today. And try the Profile Bread Method of "planned nibbling" to outwit your appetite. You may be very glad you did.

WARNING—Nurse Julie Jordan shows how "Medic-Alert" bracelet appears on wrist. Bracelet is worn to warn that wearer is a diabetic, allergic to antibiotics, or for some other reason must receive special treatment in case of an accident. (Independent-Journal photo)

'Medic-Alert' Group Plans Program Of Identification

Marin County's diabetics, epileptics, persons allergic to certain antibiotics, and others may be helped by a new project announced today by the Marin Nurses' Assn.

As a community service, the organization is sponsoring "Medic Alert," a system designed to warn of hidden medical problems in times of emergency, according to Mrs. Ellen Bergman, president.

The system involves wearing of bracelets or discs, which are considered more reliable than pocket identification cards or tatooing, Mrs. Bergman said.

The bracelets or discs may be worn by men, women and children. Each has the Medic-Alert emblem on one side and on the other side the warning message "diabetic," "epileptic," "cardiac," "allergic to penicillin," etc.

The idea was originated by Dr. M. C. Collins, a Turlock physician whose daughter almost died when her allergy to tetanus anti-toxin was not properly recognized.

The Medic-Alert Foundation, a non-profit organization, maintains a reference file on members at its Turlock headquarters and accepts collect telephone calls from physicians attending Medic-Alert wearers anywhere in the United States or Canada.

William Winter of Belvedere, television and radio news commentator, is a member of the foundation's advisory board.

Marin County residents may join Medic-Alert through the Marin Nurses' Assn. and may obtain detailed information from Mrs. Julie Jordan at the Nurses' Professional Registry, 1703 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael.

Four Elected To Holland Society Are From Marin

Three or four of the newly elected officers of the Holland American Society of California are Marinites.

Carel F. Stahl of San Rafael was elected president; A. P. Bekker of San Francisco, vice president; J. N. van Houten of Tiburon, secretary, and G. L. van der Heuven of Corte Madera, treasurer.

Completing the board of directors are two other Marinites and a San Franciscan: Arie Slikkeveer of Corte Madera, J. J. van der Ploeg of Kentfield and N. C. Schoonbrood of San Francisco.

The society's first social event under the new officers will be a formal dance on April 29, in honor of the birthday of Queen Juliana.

Pruning Demonstration

Roy Wendelken of Novato will demonstrate root pruning at the Marin Bonsai Club meeting at 8 p.m. next Tuesday at the Log Cabin in San Anselmo.

ANNUAL REPORT MADE

Crime Rises More Than Third In San Rafael

San Rafael's crime rate jumped 34.1 per cent last year, according to Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa.

Figures in his annual police department report submitted this week show the number of offenses other than parking violations reported increased from 3,378 in 1959 to 3,690 in 1960.

Total offenses reported—including parking meter violations—increased from 21,535 to 29,733.

Greatest increase in crimes was in rape, robbery and burglary. No murder or manslaughter was reported in San Rafael last year. There were two in 1959.

The number of rapes, both forcible and statuatory, increased from one in 1959 to five last year. Arrests were made in the two forcible rape cases. But only one person was convicted.

Robbery cases more than doubled with 11 reported last year compared with four the year before. There were no arrests in this category.

Burglary bounded ahead to a record 131 cases as compared to 70 in 1959 and 72 in 1956. 25 persons were brought to trial but only 19 were convicted.

There were only three cases of aggravated assault reported last year—the same as in 1959. All three cases were cleared by convictions.

Larceny (over $50) and petty theft increased from 415 in 1959 to 503 last year. Sixty-six cases resulted in arrests, with 34 persons brought to trial and 19 convicted.

Auto theft was the only major crime to show a decrease. The number of stolen cars dropped from 63 to 59. Nineteen persons went to trial in cases involving 15 of the thefts. Twelve were convicted.

Of 712 major crimes reported last year, there were arrests in 113. The seven major types of crimes increased 27.5 per cent.

Forgery, embezzlement and fraud, the check cases that plague merchants remained almost unchanged. The number dropped from 180 to 179. Police made 24 arrests and 45 cases were closed by restitution.

The police performed 5,485 non-criminal services which include handling abandoned autos, escorts, checking open doors and windows, serving warrants and handling family disturbances, Chief Chiesa reported. This was an increase of 9.9 per cent.

Automobile accidents increased 11.8 per cent from 706 to 789. However the number of injuries, at 53, was the lowest in four years. In 1959 it was 60 and in 1958 it was 78. One person was killed in a San Rafael traffic accident last year.

In 3,490 offenses other than parking meter violations, the police department charged 2,617 persons. This includes traffic citations. A total of 626 persons were arrested by San Rafael police last year.

In the juvenile department, 822 youngsters were handled. Of these, 106 were arrested—including 85 boys and 21 girls—and 716 were not detained. The disposition of the cases was divided among the juvenile court and probation department, which handled 364 and the police department, which handled 397.

United Fund Allocations To Be Decided

Directors of Marin United Fund will meet at Redwood High School next Wednesday night to decide dollar allocations to member agencies for 1961.

The meeting will start at 8 p.m. in room 107 (teachers' room).

Also on the agenda is appointment and confirmation of the 1961 admissions and allocations committee of Marin United Fund.

United Crusade agencies belonging to the United Fund are as follows:

Red Cross, Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation (San Francisco), Urban League (San Francisco), Boy Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, Catholic Social Service, Catholic Youth Organization (San Francisco), Children's Home Society (San Francisco), Family Service Agency.

Girl Scouts, Legal Aid Society, Marin Council of Community Services, Jewish Community Center, St. Vincent's School, Sunny Hills, United Seamen's Service (New York), United Service Organization (San Francisco), YMCA and YWCA.

The Portuguese Empire covers 23 times as much land as the mother country.

Students Operate KTIM For Day

Those young-sounding voices heard yesterday on radio station KTIM were those of high school students from Marin who took over the station today from sign-on to sign-off.

Ron Sater, student at Drake High School, took over the "Man on the Street," interview. One of the two persons he interviewed was no stranger—it was his father, Harley Sater, announced for KGO in San Francisco. Also interviewed was Ed Hornby, teacher at Drake high.

Fourteen students from Marin County high schools took over the entire broadcasting day, replacing the regular KTIM staff, during "Students Day."

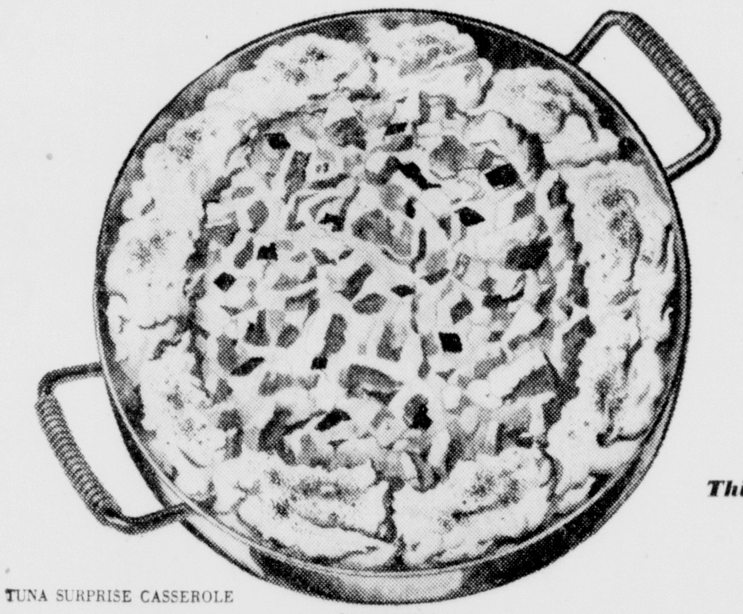
TUNA IN A CABBAGE BOWI

Your handsome "bowl" is a hollowed cabbage with its outer leaves turned down! For your tuna salad, try shredded cabbage, chopped onion, green pepper, pimiento and egg. Leave the dressing to Best Foods® Real Mayonnaise. Right from the jar, Best Foods seasons with the light hand this unusual blend of flavors demands. Fill cabbage just before serving.

This is the place for Best Foods



TUNA SURPRISE CASSEROLE

Mix all the ingredients for your favorite tuna salad except the Best Foods. Instead, use Best Foods Mayonnaise to make a surprise sauce. For each can of tuna, combine ½ cup Best Foods and ½ cup milk. Add salad and cook over low heat until sauce thickens. (Best Foods makes a smooth, delicate, creamy sauce . . . and it's surprisingly quick and easy!) Serve with Chinese noodles, rice or mashed potatoes.

TUNA NEPTUNE SANDWICHES

For sandwiches with a taste of the unusual, you might add chopped pickles to your tuna salad. Then simply fill partially scooped-out frankfurter rolls. Or, spread on bread cut in fancy shapes and garnish with pimiento and parsley. Prepare sandwiches ahead, if you like, and refrigerate. Best Foods helps keep them fresh-tasting till serving time. This is no place for second best . . .

Dog Owners Warned Over Cattle Problem

Keep your dogs confined or they may be shot by irate ranchers protecting their livestock.

This warning came today from the Marin County Humane Society, which is joining dairymen and stock raisers in their appeal to dog owners to keep animals confined to their own property.

"Recent cases of dogs tearing calves apart and leaving them while still alive as well as dogs tearing sheep and lamb carrying ewes to ribbons are too common," declared Mel L. Morse, secretary-manager of the Humane Society. "Dogs have been shot by ranchers and stock raisers in the protection of these animals."

Morse pointed out that under the Agriculture Code, it is unlawful for any person to permit his dog to run at large on any farm where livestock or domestic fowl are kept without the consent of the owner of the land.

"Persons who do not accept the full responsibility of animal ownership are causing great suffering," said Morse. "Dogs may not run at large on farm lands regardless of area."

The part time dog owner is also creating community nuisance by allowing pets to damage gardens, upset refuse cans, chase cars, molest and injure children and adults, Morse added.

Plan For Eureka

Engineers Stanley M. Bala and Jesper C. Strandgaard of San Rafael were selected Monday by the city of Eureka to prepare a master plan and feasibility report for the commercial and smallcraft harbor of Eureka. Robert Cornish, Mill Valley planning consultant, will be consultant for the job.

Drunken Drivers Draw Sentences

Five drunken drivers have been sentenced in Marin Municipal Court, two of them to jail terms.

Donald Ernest Geisler, 27, of Napa and Meldon Albert Embury, 42, of 223 Cascade Drive, Fairfax, must pay a $263 fine and spend five days in jail each, Judge Harold J. Haley decided.

Geisler was caught at Fifth and Tamalpais Avenues in San Rafael last Christmas Day. He had a previous conviction last October.

Embury was arrested on Bolinas Road in Fairfax. He had a prior conviction about a month ago.

Three other motorists go off with fines and probation.

William Dale Peifer Jr., 28, of 78th Amament and Electronics Squadron, Hamilton Air Force Base, was caught on Black Point Cutoff last Saturday. He drew a $158 fine, six months probation, and lost his driving privilege for 90 days.

Lee Arthur Green, 39, of San Francisco drew one year probation and a $263 fine. He was caught on Highway 101 last Oct. 29.

Roy Merrit Dowling, 30, of San Francisco must pay a $184 fine and remain on probation for six months. He was caught on Highway 101 on Jan. 31.

Navigator James Cook discovered Australia's Great Barrier Reef in 1770.

Legislature Ought To Bury Blue Law With NO Votes

Assembly Bill No. 289, pending now before our state legislature in Sacramento would make it illegal and unlawful for a licensed dealer to sell an automobile between midnight Saturday and midnight Sunday.

This proposal strikes us as a step backward.

When these United States emerged as independent about 185 years ago, some of our states (some of those first settled by organized religious groups) were plagued by "blue laws."

In the nearly two centuries since, most of these blue laws have been repealed. A few still survive, particularly in a few Eastern states, and there are even some municipalities in California —founded originally by organized religious groups—where blue laws still exist in the form of city ordinances.

But for 185 years, the trend has been steadily away from this sort of thing.

A blue law is in effect a kind of infringement on a person's religious freedom.

If you are an athiest you enjoy the protection of the religious freedom provision in our Bill of Rights, just the same as a devout believer in God.

The enforcement by law of the tenants of one religion on others of differing views is undeniably an infringement of religious freedom.

Sunday closing laws certainly fall into this category.

Take the Seventh Day Adventists, for instance. They observe the Sabbath on Saturday in accordance with Old Testament teaching that the Sabbath is to be observed on the last day of the week.

If you were a Seventh Day Adventist who made your living selling automobiles—

And if the high cost of raising a family made it necessary for you to sell automobiles six days a week—

A law forbidding the sale of automobiles on your non-sabbath Sunday would most assuredly interfere with your exercise of religious freedom.

A law prohibiting the Sunday operation of one business seems to us poor legislation in that one business ought not be singled out. All should be closed, or none. We ought to face the issue squarely.

We hope the legislature buries A.B. 289 with an avalanche of NO votes.

NEVER TOO OLD TO DO GOOD

Older Americans by the hundreds have come out of retirement to devote their services overseas as United Nations technicians and administrators.

The policy of attracting retired specialists into fields where they are desperately needed has now become an accepted feature of UN technical assistance programs.

A 68-year-old engineer with more than 40 years' experience, for example, is using his skills in Turkey. His wife, who is a nurse, is busily occupied in her efforts to help Turkish mothers.

Other retired persons, many of whom are over 65, can be found in promoting low cost housing projects in Iceland; doing social welfare work in the Middle East; and laying the groundwork for a school of public administration in Libya.

Most of us are not experts, but at every stage of our lives we can do much to help our fellow men.

Make up your mind to keep striving to serve both God and man until the very threshold of eternity.

"As long as you did it to one of these My least brethren, you did it to Me."
(Matthew 25:40)

Make us restless, O Holy Spirit, so long as there is one human being who needs a helping hand.

Depression Fly-Spray Salesman Ate, But Didn't Make Money

By FRANCIS STILLEY
(For Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—What do you figure would be the toughest kind of job in the world?

How about trying to sell fly spray to farmers at the height of the great depression, when hardly anybody could buy anything?

An old hoecake country boy named Fred Grove, who now writes books of Western yarns from his Rancho Grande at Norman, Okla., tried the spray line and would rather plow an 880-acre farm with a broken-down mule.

Fred recalls it—all too well—as if it were only yesterday, and here is how he tells it:

"You drive up to the farmhouse slowly, careful to close all gates and not run over any fryers or hound dogs.

"Your prospect, a stout, middle-aged man with skeptical blue eyes, would likely be out in the cow lot. Busy, of course, but summer heat made it easy to stop and talk a while in the shade.

"The fly spray salesman who ate regularly never hurried or put on uppity airs. He was a folksy type, true blue for the Constitution, a strong weather-talker and never used hyphenated cusswords. He'd mumble 'Don't mind if'n I do' when offered a chaw of terbacker.

"He'd then proceed to anoint sunflowers with astonishing accuracy, and perhaps allow as how 'the rich 'uns is livin' off the farmers.'

"By and by, the farmer would ask. What kind o' dope you got in that blue can, young sprout?' Then:

"It's a plumb new insecticide, sir. Called Whizbang. Kills a fly in open air."

"Most ours are in the barn."

"It's also mighty handy for cleaning wash tubs and woodwork."

"Ma does that."

"Its uses are just about unlimited, sir. Kills lice on hogs."

"Young feller, my hogs don't have no lice."

"Oh, I meant just in case the lice did get ahold of them. I can see you sure keep a mighty clean place here. Course, this here Whizbang's plenty handy for burnin' off hen roosts and gettin' rid of wasp nests."

"ALWAYS KEEP my hen house clean. Don't give a dang about the wasps."

"Now sir, watch those flies fall as I squirt this fine lookin' Jersey. Now see me squirt it on my shirt. If it won't stain my shirt it ain't gonna hurt a hair on your cow. May I take your order for five gallons sir?"

"W-A-L-L-L, NOW I don't just know 'bout that. Tell you what. It's nigh onto noontime now. I think ma's probably got the table set so you come on up with me and let's try out the vittles."

Fred says nobody ever sold enough fly spray that way to get rich, but a fellow got some pretty fair groceries—sometimes.

THE CYNIC'S CORNER By Interlandi

"The proprietor here phoned in a complaint . . . thought you'd like to know I'm arresting HIM for un-American activities, and aiding and abetting enemy propagandists . . . !"

20 YEARS AGO

A Novato man hit his wife over the head with a flatiron, landed in the county jail, accidentally injured himself by hitting his own head on the bedpost.

Marin supervisors were cool toward a proposal by Frank Williams of the grand jury roads committee that the county's five road districts should be consolidated and operated from one maintenance station. Each supervisor wanted to keep control of his own highways.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Use Democratic Means To Fight

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Mr. Michal's letter commending a recent cartoon by Don Hesse left me with the distinct impression that he would uphold "the American flag," but finds the body of our Constitution a bit too "soft on Communists."

He also emphasizes the Chessman case. Yet, if ever an example of self-initiated legal maneuvers could be made, it would be this one. What, if any, portion of his more than 10 years of "due process" can be attributed to civil libertarians?

Mr. Michals claims that the "beneficiaries have been sex deviates, traitors and spies." To this I must take deep personal offense. The principal, if only potential, beneficiary is one's self!

I might have been sufficiently stirred up recently to join a group that will promote the construction of our Civic Center as originally planned. If Frank Lloyd Wright is designated "red" in the future (as he has been on occasion), might not my organization join the ever expanding attorney general's list "by association"? Would I, then, be an unfit teacher, government employee, pension recipient?

And if I took my case to the courts with the aid of the American Civil Liberties Union, would that make me a sex deviate, traitor or spy?

Perhaps Mr. Michals does not appreciate the threat posed by those who would abridge the rights of the innocent in order to more efficiently catch the guilty. If our problem is, as he suggests, that we have inadequate laws to restrain criminals, spies and traitors; what legislation does he propose? Surely a nation as ingenious as ours can catch a lawbreaker without assaulting the non-conformist.

Does Mr. Michals know that the House Un-American Activities Committee has had more than two decades in which to do precisely that? Yet they have not presented one acceptable piece of legislation to facilitate the apprehension of our enemies in all that time.

Let us devise democratic means of fighting those he fears, rather than adopting the very system of legal persecution which makes them our ideological enemy. Meantime A. C. L. U. represents those desiring to take an active part in protecting us from "expedient" actions that could destroy the protection each of us is guaranteed by the Bill of Rights.

HENRY MacARTHUR

L.A. Democrat Proposes Property Taxpayers' 'Bill Of Rights'

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — A local property taxpayer's "bill of rights," designed to inform him how and why his taxes are paid and to put a ceiling on them, is being readied for action in the legislature by Assemblyman Charles H. Wilson (D-Los Angeles).

Wilson, new chairman of the lower house revenue and taxation committee, has introduced the series of bills and will schedule them for hearing in several weeks.

KEY MEASURE of the group is ACA31 which would amend the constitution to limit property taxes to 2 per cent of the cash value of the property. The bill provides the methods for determining cash value, based on the price a willing buyer would pay a willing seller.

The measure would provide, for instance, that on a $20,000 piece of property, taxes could run only to $400 a year. If property is assessed at the usual level of about 25 per cent of value, or at $5,000, this would limit the total tax rate to $8 per $100 of assessed value.

"WE ARE APPROACHING the point where we are going to have to have a ceiling on property taxes," Wilson said. "There is no rhyme or reason to the present method, other than that the supervisors decide what their budget should be and the assessments and tax rates are adjusted to raise enough money."

Wilson's plan, if adopted by the legislature and approved by the people, would put counties on the same fiscal basis as the 1961-62 state budget now under consideration. Under a new method, departments were told to formulate budgets to fit pre-announced amounts of money.

The tax ceiling is but one feature of Wilson's "bill of rights."

Another proposed change in the constitution, ACA7, would permit county boards of supervisors to set up tax appeals boards. Such boards would sit as boards of equalization and handle all tax protests and appeals. AB179 prescribes the qualifications and sets up procedures for appointment of the boards.

OTHER MEASURES include: AB1308, which would require the assessors to show taxpayers the records showing how assessments and tax bills were computed. AB1309 would require a breakdown of the taxes, to show how much of the total goes for schools, special districts, county, etc.

Another measure, AB1310, would prohibit increases of assessments during a program of reassessment, until the entire county-wide reassessment was completed. Wilson said some counties raise assessments in one or two supervisorial districts, often when the members do not have to run for re-election. In this way they pass the heat around from one member to another.

One other feature rounds out the program. This would eliminate the levying of personal property taxes. Wilson said present methods for assessing personal property are haphazard and unfair. In addition, he said collection costs often amount to 25 per cent or more of the taxes.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

When the West was still very wild, a suspected horse thief was arrested and tried. The jury, after lengthy deliberation, found him innacent. The judge stared incredulously at the foreman who delivered the verdict, then hollered, "You fellows'll have to go back into that jury room and reconsider. The defendant was hanged two hours ago."

A doting father reluctantly sent his one and only son to camp, wrote to him a few days later: "Tell me honestly, Wilbur: are you homesick?" The boy replied, "No, papa, I'm here sick."

A small boy's idea of a balanced meal is a hamburger in each hand.

Something Crazy About P-TA They Really Dig—Like Crab Grass

Kent School P-TA members are still chuckling over the "beatnik" program at their annual potluck dinner recently.

One of the hits of the show was a poem on Kentfield, composed and read by attorney Dick Werthimer. It contained such plaintive verse as this:

"Oh, Del Mesans, Greenbraeans, gardeners, woodlanders

You are close to Nature with your fertilizers and soil.

Where is your crab grass tonight?

Why is it growing while you relax?"

And winds up:

"This is what I, the Kentfield hipster, dig, with my existentialist peepers while I drag on my cig. What can you do, Kentfield, to save your soul?

"What can keep you sane in a world on the brink of nuclear extinction?

You have only one answer to the dilemmas of this mad world.

It's your P-TA in peace and war."

AND SPEAKING OF Kentfield, we've heard quite a few comments lately about the lack of civic interest in that area. The Kentfield Civic League hasn't been able to stir many residents from their homes in several months.

"They just want to be left alone," one woman told us. Mention incorporation, however, and that will wake them up. "They don't want any part of it," she said.

Kentfield will be swallowed up by Larkspur if the residents don't watch out, she predicted.

P-TA IS VERY BIG in Paris, writes George Corson, Drake High School teacher on sabbatical leave while teaching at an Army dependent school near Paris.

The Paris P-TA (high school and junior high) has some $10,000-plus in its treasury, and has just bought a new basketball scoreboard like the one at Drake, but a newer model.

Corson is teaching physical education and first aid. He doesn't think the dependents' schools compare very well with those in the Tam district.

The superintendent for the schools in France tries to recruit California teachers, Corson notes, because they are generally among the best they have.

The Drake teacher has visited several European schools, and his two sons are attending two college-level schools: The Sorbonne and L'Alliance Francaise in Paris.

ELEMENTARY DISTRICT teachers in Marin County are earning the highest maximum salaries this year in Kentfield district—$9,100.

The district hopes to maintain this lead—if the proposed 50-cent tax increase is approved on April 18. Good teachers cost money, as any superintendent will tell you. And the competition is intense.

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Special Warfare Center Trains Instructors For Guerrilla Forces

WASHINGTON—At the direct initiative of President Kennedy, the United States is expanding substantially its capability to deal with "unconventional war by unconventional means."

This is nearly the equivalent of adding a new arm to the peacetime forces of the nation. The Administration's prime objective is to make available to our friends in the undeveloped areas of the world the kind of military assistance that can do them the most good.

This means that the newly independent and sometimes insecure regimes, whether in Laos or Vietnam or Indonesia or Africa, fighting to survive against disorder and subversion, will not have to ask America for an atomic bomb or a Sherman tank when they really need on-the-spot training in guerrilla and counter-guerrilla warfare from multilingual American commandos who can show them how to build a bomb with a bamboo stick.

To help our friends to fight "unconventional war by unconvenitional means" has long had a paragraph in the planning papers of the Army.

It has now been given priority and Army Chief of Staff Gen. George H. Decker has just signed the directive putting additional manpower into the enterprise.

GEN. DECKER'S first action is to put 500 more handpicked, linguistically gifted paratroopers and other Army specialists into the special warfare center at Fort Bragg, N. C. There they will study, develop, try out, and perfect old and new arts of guerrilla fighting specially adapted to some 18 different countries whose regimes are likely to be imperiled by subversive guerrilla forces.

It is not intended that these special-warfare trainees will fight in the rice paddies of Laos or Vietnam or in the jungles of the Congo. They would only go where U. S. military aid is wanted. They will go, not to fight, but to transmit specially developed techniques and tactics.

The new specially trained U. S. guerrilla specialists will have two to three Asian and African languages at their command. Some two-year draftees of special gifts and skills will also be utilized to bring to bear upon this training all the unusual talents the Army can command.

Normally the U. S. Army needs and wants the most modern and best weapons technology can produce, however expensive. For the nuclear conventional deterrent the Administration will continue to put high priority on scientific weapons. But to counter "unconventional" aggression, Gen. Decker is directing the Fort Bragg Special Warfare Center to specialize on weapons which bare hands and ingenuity can produce in the underdeveloped countries. How to make such weapons, how to wage such warfare, how to trap the elusive enemy and survive will be the heart of the curriculum.

THE DECISION to expand our capability in unconventional warfare stems in part from two White House conferences with the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

The U. S. does not propose to spell out all the circumstances under which we might or might not use nuclear weapons. But one of the effects of expanding American capability in unconventional warfare is to inform our friends—and others — that U. S. military assistance is not limited either to atomic or even conventional weapons, but will also be able to help counter new threats of guerrilla operations.

REP. MILLER REPORTS

Sense Of Urgency Felt At Capital

By
REP. CLEMENT W. MILLER

The most important fact in Washington this week is the contrast between the hustling new Kennedy administration and the Congress.

The sense of urgency manifested at the White House is not being felt up here on Capitol Hill.

This week, the seventh of this first session of the 87th Congress, the last of the committees are only now organizing. Only a handful have begun hearings.

One reason for this coasting is the changeover in administrations. Another is the drawn-out showdown fight over the House Rules Committee. But these are only part of the story. The rank-and-file in Congress is simply in a business-as-usual mood. And, one must presume, this reflects the mood of the country.

The president and some congressional leaders have been trying for a month now to communicate their appraisal of the seriousness of the economic slump and the need to take timely action.

The new president's legislative program—in being and in preparation—is the most ambitious to be put before Congress in a decade. It is directed toward economic recovery and sound economic growth.

In these objectives he will have my energetic support.

Last week Kennedy went to the people during his televised new conference in an effort to change the mood of the country and thereby change the mood of Congress.

It is essential, the president said, to take action this winter "because we don't want to find ourselves in the spring and the summer debating whether we are in an economic recession . . . and finding at the end of the congressional session that no action has been taken."

He then listed some of the legislative measures he has recommended for recovery and growth. Here is his list, together with current status:

Unemployment benefits — Kennedy bill (for temporary extension of duration of benefits for unemployed workers) was submitted to Congress Feb. 6. House committee hearings began last week.

Redevelopment of distressed areas—Senate hearings held; House hearings not yet scheduled.

Minimum wage — Kennedy bill sent to Congress Feb. 7. House hearings began last Friday; Senate hearings not scheduled. Bill would increase minimum wage for presently covered workers to $1.25 an hour over three-year period and extend coverage.

Social security improvements —Kennedy proposes five improvements including raising minimum monthly benefit for retired workers from $33 to $43; permittitng men to begin receiving benefits at age 62; and increasing the aged widow's benefits to 85 per cent of her husband's.

In addition, the president has emphasized the long-range need for federal aid to education, including classroom construction, and health insurance.

On Feb. 9, Kennedy submitted a comprehensive program to improve health and hospital care. Congressman Cecil King of California, ranking Democrat on the Ways and Means Committee, has introduced the Health Insurance Benefits Act of 1961. This embodies the Kennedy recommendations for health insurance for retired persons paid for during their working years through the sociay security system. No committee hearings have been scheduled.

A similar proposal became the No. 1 issue of the 1960 session. This will have perhaps the hardest going of any of the new president's proposals this year.

NAMED MANAGER—W. T. Bergem of 300 Johnstone Drive, Marinwood, lending officer at the San Rafael branch of Bank of America, has been named manager of the bank's Lakeport (Lake County) branch, it was announced by S. Clark Beise, president. Bergem has been with the bank since 1941. Prior to that, he was with the Tracy and Modesto branches.

All-Junior Horse Show This Weekend

A record number of 590 entries will vie for trophies and ribbons this weekend at the 11th annual Marin Mounted 4-H Club All-Junior Horse Show at Circle V Ranch, west of Fairfax.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Grant of Sleepy Hollow, 4-H Club leaders, announced that 239 horses from as far away as Reno have been entered in the various events. Admission is free. Refreshments will be sold at the Circle V, about one and one-half miles west of Fairfax.

Starting time is 9 a.m. both Saturday and Sunday. Saturday events will be all English, with a variety of jumping events. Sunday will feature all western events, including working with cattle.

Silver trophies will go to the winner of each event, and ribbons will be awarded to sixth place. Trophies and ribbons are sponsored by Marin businessmen and individuals.

Judges will be Ralph E. Corpe of Sacramento and Robert N. Lewis Jr. of San Mateo.

Lynda Grant of Sleepy Hollow is show manager; Beverly Mager of San Francisco, show secretary, and Jim Garretson of Sleepy Hollow, show treasurer.

Reunion Slated

Plans are now being made for a reunion on March 31 of the 159th Infantry, 40th Division, to commemorate the 20th anniversary of its induction into federal service, it was announced by Ren Hughes, of P. O. Box 45, Oakland 4, general chairman.

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

(A Thrice-Weekly Column)

By HARRY CRAFT

A Few Changes Have Been Made In Montecito Center Businesses

A few changes in and out of the Montecito Shopping Center, San Rafael — Marston Hecht has closed his Martston's International candy store to join up with Caswell Coffee Co. . . . Approved Television Service at 361 Third Street is moving into Marston's place—and Sugar 'N' Spice Doughnut Shop at 2070 Fourth Street on the Miracle Mile will move into Approved TV's old quarters.

REOPENING of a children's apparel shop at 539 San Anselmo Avenue, San Anselmo, will take place next Wednesday. This is the site of the former Adele Moran store which sold out last year and has been vacant about three or four months.

New operators are Mrs. Toni Prigmore and Mrs. Lunetta Trewhella of San Anselmo, both of whom were with Adele Moran for several years.

Actually the business is a corporation — Toni-Lu Shop, Inc. of which Mesdames Prigmore and Trewhella are vice president and treasurer, respectively. Since they will do most of the work, the store has been named after them. Other corporation officers are J. R. Linka of Burlingame, president and William Truhella, secretary.

PROBLEMS — All professional and trade associations have problems, and when internal controversies develop they might just take a cue from one of the most self-searching of all organizations next to those of the legal and medical professions — the real estate board.

The Marin County Real Estate Board held a panel discussion last Tuesday morning by members of the professional conduct committee, Edward P. Ward, Edward P. Morphy and C. R. DeWitt. Chairman for the day Don Geddes was seeking a set of guiding principles on sales in which more than one brokerage office has participated in dealing with the customer.

The matter had become too complicated for the panel to come up with a cut-and-dried policy applicable to all situations.

Dan Deedy, manager of the board, urged members to hold themselves above "jungle rules."

But Ed Ward, who is also vice president of the board, brought it all down to one very old guiding principle — the Golden Rule.

Both are right—good maxims for any business.

AND SPEAKING of real estate, this same meeting honored Robert R. Morrison formerly with Frank Howard Allen and Son who has recently opened hihs own office at 973 Grand Avenue, San Rafael. He was presented with his certificate from the Real Estate Certificate Institute.

MARINDIVIDUALS IN BUSINESS: John C. Beckett of Kent Woodlands has been named president of the Palo Alto Engineering Co., a wholly owned subsidiary of the Hewlett-Packard Co. PAECO specializes in transformers and related electronic components. Beckett has been manager of the firm since last year and was previously with Wesix Electric Heater Co. of San Francisco for 15 years. . . . New personnel manager for the Fairchild Semiconductor Corp. diode operation in San Rafael is Paul F. Kent, a resident of Terra Linda. Before coming to Fairchild, Kent was employed as personnel director at Sylvania Electric Products in Mountain View . . . Contractor N. T. Johnson of Greenbrae will have his business office at 2000 Bridgeway, Sausalito, beginning next Wednesday.

ALMANAC

Today is Thursday, Feb. 23, the 54th day of the year with 311 more in 1961.

The moon is approaching its full phase.

The morning stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

The evening stars are Venus and Mars.

On this day in history:

In 1633, Samuel Pepys, English public official and writer, was born.

In 1685, George Frederick Handel, German-English composer, was born.

In 1787, Emma Hart Willard, pioneer American leader in education for women, was born.

In 1847, Gen Zachary Taylor and his soldiers defeated Gen. Santa Anna at the Battle of Buena Vista, Mexico.

In 1905, after observing that strangers in a city are often inhospitably received, a Chicago lawyer, Paul Harris, and three friends, founded the first Rotary Club.

A thought for today: Author Nathaniel Hawthorne said: "What other dungeon is so dark as one's own heart! What jailer is so inexorable as one's self?"

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

The column of heights gives the elevation in feet of each tide above or below the plane of Coast Survey chart soundings. The depths are always additive to the chart depths unless preceded by a minus sign (-), when the numbers are subtracted from the depth given in the chart. Lightface type indicates a.m. times; bold-face type indicates p.m. times.

Children's Behavior May Offer Clues To Inner Disturbances

All children have problems. Growing up isn't easy. But only a few have really serious difficulties. They're the ones to worry about.

How can you tell if your children's problems are serious? By watching for the symptoms of strain. Here are the most common symptoms:

1. Frequent nightmares, long night terrors, ghastly fear of the dark, or of being alone.

2. Sudden reversions to babyhood like wetting the bed, sucking a thumb, or reverting to babytalk.

3. Severe, long-lasting stammering.

4. Recurring involuntary tics, twitches, or jerks of the face or body.

5. Continuous, rebellious irritability. Minute by minute and day by day conflict.

6. Irrational fears. Hysterical fear of enclosure, or of high places, or of stairs, or of cats, or of dirt, or of being deserted or of being adopted, and so on.

7. Physical disorders like running a fever the day tests are given at school. Or having violent headaches, or nausea, or attacks of the shakes, or temporary eye troubles without apparent cause. Strains can create the same disorders in children that create in adults.

Does your child show one or more of these symptoms? Then go to your doctor. Get his advice, and follow it. If things don't improve look up a psychologist. You'll find them on the faculties of colleges or universities. Have him take a personality inventory. After that do your best to carry out the suggestions the psychologist gives to you.

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "Aren't psychiatrists better for treating emotional ailments than psychologists?"

A. K.

(A) Yes, but in many places psychologists are available, but psychiatrists are not. Psychologists charge less than psychiatrists. Many psychologists are competent to treat the common emotional disorders of children.

Meeting Slated On Hiring Of Planning Aide

The San Rafael Planning Commission will hold a special meeting tomorrow to help the city council hire a planning consultant.

The consultant will work with San Francisco engineer Daniel Coleman in preparing a general plan for the city.

Councilmen asked the planners and Coleman to each recommend three planning consultants. The planning commissioners will meet at 1:30 p.m. in the E Street School to make their selections.

The names will be considered by the city council at an adjourned meeting 5:15 p.m. Monday.

Senior Citizens Plan Two Events

Senior citizens of Marin have a big weekend coming up.

On Saturday at 1:30 p.m., the Marin Senior Assn. will hold its final February meeting in the auditorium of Isabel Cook School in San Anselmo.

On Sunday, members will gather for tea from 2 to 4 p.m. at the Senior Center, 1825 Fourth Street, San Rafael. Mrs. E. M. Grote announced that music will be provided during the tea.

Two Films To Benefit Library At School

"Pather Panchali," a full-length movie about a Brahmin boy's life in an Indian village, will be shown at 8 p.m., March 3 in the Park School Auditorium in Mill Valley to benefit the Park School library. A short film, "A Visit to Picasso," also will be shown.

Tickets are on sale at the school library during school hours and at the Art Store at 11 East Blithedale Avenue.

Series Set On State's Wild Life

A lecture series on the plant and wild life of the California High Sierra will be offered beginning at 8 p.m., Wednesday, March 1, in the College of Marin Little Theater by University of California Extension.

Speakers will be Joseph G. Hall, assistant professor of biological sciences at San Francisco State College: "General Ecology: The Many Environments of the Sierra" on March 1; Parker D. Trask, professor of geological engineering at University of California, "Geological Influences on Plants and Animals in the Sierra," March 8; Herbert L. Mason, professor of botany and director of the herbarium, U. S., "Plant Life of the Sierra Nevada" March 15; Howard L. Cogswell, assistant professor of biological sciences, Mills College, "Bird Life of the Sierra Nevada," March 22; Robert C. Stebbins, professor of zoology and curator in herpetology, U. C., "Evolution and Natural History of Reptiles and Amphibians in the Sierra Nevada" March 29; Robert T. Orr, curator of birds and mammals, California Academy of Sciences, "Mammals of the Sierra Nevada" April 4, and R. L. Usinger, professor of entomology, U. C., "Alpine Insects of the Sierra Nevada" April 12.

The lecture series will be followed by a summer seminar at Camp White Wolf in Yosemite Park, July 18-21.

Tickets for the Kentfied lectures are now available from University of California Extension, or may be purchased at the door on March 1.

Nursery School Confab Set For Santa Rosa

A San Rafael woman will head the hostess and welcome committee for the third biennial conference and workshop of the Private Nursery School Assn. of California in Santa Rosa March 4 and 5.

She is Mrs. G. K. Girard, director of Alouette Nursery and Mrs. Elizabeth Meredith, director of Woodside Way Nursery School in Ross, are also on the committee. The conference will be held at Flamingo Hotel in Santa Rosa.

New Life Rafts Tested

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A new sea rescue package which includes two 20-man life rafts that inflate as they fall from an airplane was recently tested at Folsom Lake.

McClellan Air Force Base officials say the new equipment will soon be standard aid to men on aircraft ditched in the Pacific.

Course On Novel Slated In Marin

Dr. Mary Rich of Mill Valley, will teach University of California Extension evening courses in literature in Kentfield and Mill Valley opening next week.

Her course "The Twentieth Century Novel," will begin Monday at 8 p.m., in room 92 of Olney Hall at College of Marin.

Her course in "Contemporary Poetry" will open March 1 at 7:30 p.m. at Tamalpais High School.

Enrollments will be accepted at the first meeting of each class.

Let's Keep Rolling Ahead

We Americans invented mass production, then we had to build mass demand to keep the wheels turning. For this purpose we called upon advertising — the most effective and economical means of creating mass demand. Soon we had more jobs, higher incomes, and better living conditions. And there isn't any limit to how much farther we can go, if we just keep it rolling!

I NEED
Three men who always thought they'd like to sell. Why don't I just hire 3 salesmen? Simply because $150 per week doesn't look as big to a good salesman as it does to you, and you'll work harder to make up for your inexperience. Besides, hard work is all it takes to be a good salesman. So if you're willing to work hard, I'm willing to give you the necessary training to make you a real salesman Write Box 548 Independent Journal.

Square Houses Are For Square People

If you want something different, with built-in charm, a view through the pines, lots of mellow paneling and used brick, be sure to see this unusual home. Located in the Dominican area, this home was recently featured in "Living for Young Homemakers." The large living room has windows all around to take advantage of the view. The kitchen is a dream of modern electrical convenience, and the 3 bedrooms are unique in their decor. An enclosed yard for children and a delightful patio off the master bedroom are added attractions. If you're tired of the same old conventional houses, see this now. Priced at $29,950.

Mineral Society Meets Tomorrow

The Marin Mineral Society will meet tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. at College of Marin to hear a talk entitled "Live in Rocks" by Jack Donahue of the San Francisco Mineral Society.

The meeting, open to the public, will be held in room 40 of the college.

President Ambrose Canziani of San Rafael appointed the following chairmen to serve through 1961:

Charles Geller, field trips; Mrs. Joseph Walker, hospitality; Col. Thew Ice, show; Mrs. Ensign, publicity; Mrs. Ambrose Canziani and Geller, annual picnic; Mrs. Charles Geller, club project; Kenneth Hawkins, membership, and Cyrus Dam, program.

The submarine USS Triton carries two nuclear reactors and has the horsepower and size of a light cruiser.

Civil Defense Speaker Planned

A discussion on civil defense and its implications will be led by a New York speaker at a public meeting in Room 1 of College of Marin at 8 o'clock tonight.

David McReynolds, national field secretary of the War Resisters League, will discuss "Shall We Dig In or Disarm?" McReynolds is a contributor to national magazines such as the Progressive, Village Voice and Liberation. The talk is sponsored by the Marin Peace Center.

Was In Exercise

Army pfc. Donald L. Erwin Jr., whose parents live at 115 Solana Street, Tiburon, participated with other personnel from the 178th Signal Company in "Exercise Long Pass," a mobility training exercise, at the Clark Air Base-Stotsenberg training area in the Philippines. The exercise ended this week.

2,000 Bridge Players Ready For San Rafael Competition

Some 2,000 bridge players from all parts of the state, ranging from novices to life masters, are expected to gather in San Rafael for the sixth annual Marin County Sectional Championship Meet, April 7-9.

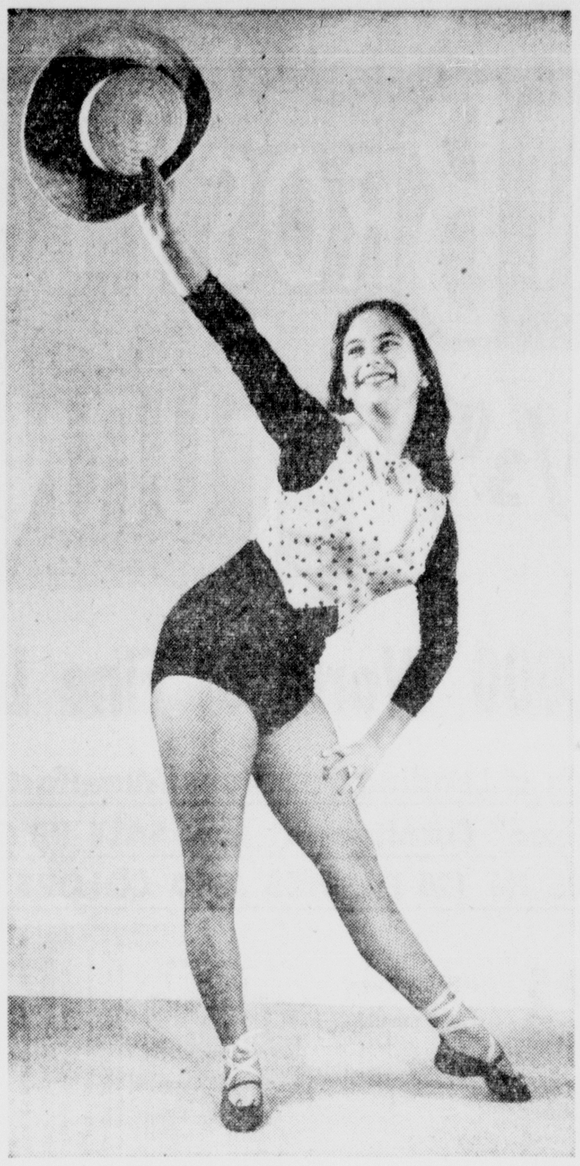
The scramble for trophies and master points will begin at 1:30 p.m. Friday, April 7, at the Bermuda Palms Motel, tournament headquarters.

Severt Gaustad, president of the Marin unit of American Contract Bridge League, announced that all bridge players are welcome to participate in the duplicate tournament. Special sessions are provided each day for the less experienced players. Those who want to kibitz are welcome to do so, Gaustad said.

Big event of the three-day meet is the George Barton Masters Pairs Championship on Saturday, a double session event open only to those with 20 or more master points. Side sessions will be provided at the same time for all other players, as well as junior events for those with under 20 master points.

On Friday and Saturday, the afternoon events start at 1:30 and the evening events at 8 p.m. On Sunday, the times are 1 p.m. and 7 p.m.

Among defending champions is Donald Oakie of San Jose, who was on the American team that went to Europe last year for the world championship tournament.



MARIN TALENT CONTEST ENTRANT

Sylvia Silk, daughter of Henry Silk of 1629 Novato Boulevard, Novato, will appear in this costume for a ballet number on the Ben Alexander Show on television station KTVU (Channel 2) at 7:30 p. m. Friday. The show will feature an amateur talent competition. Sylvia is a junior at Novato High School.

AA Chapter To Meet

The Novato chapter of Alcoholics Anonymous will hold its sixth anniversary meeting at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow in Trevitt Hall, De Long and Sherman Avenues, Novato. Refreshments will be served at the public meeting.

More San Rafael Fire Alarms Answered In '60

Fire alarms, training and inspections increased last year in San Rafael.

That is the conclusion of Fire Chief Vance Trivett in his annual report, submitted this week.

Number of alarms rose from 464 to 561. This included increases in residential fires from 57 to 71; in commercial buildings from nine to 21, grass, brush and other fires from 147 to 178, and non-fire alarms (for wash-downs, lock-outs, cats in trees) up from 231 to 280.

Fires in non-residential buildings such as garages and sheds remained at nine. Manufacturing plant fires dropped from three to two.

The fire department's in-service training program provided 3,268 man-hours of training as compared with 2,047 in 1959. This included intensive training in December which was given to 10 new firemen hired because of the opening of a third fire house located on Joseph Court in Terra Linda. The $45,000 station was opened last month.

Hiring of the 10 new firemen reduced the average age in the San Rafael Fire Department from 39 to 33.

It also provided the city with one fireman per 524 residents as compared with 545 in 1959, although the population increase was estimated at 2,000.

The fire prevention bureau was increased to two men. They made 359 investigations, reinspections and fire hazard checks as compared with 33 by the one-man bureau in 1959. Inspections of new buildings were up from 273 to 328.

The bureau initiated a system of team inspections with the building inspector and started a revision of the filing system to cover every commercial building in the city.

San Rafael High School tied its fire alarm system into the city's, and the fire prevention bureau has been trying to add convalescent hospitals to the system.

A $6,667 fire truck designed to climb steep grades and fight grass fires was purchased by the fire department and a $31,900 pumper truck was ordered from P. E. Van Pelt Corp. of Oakland. The truck, which will be the department's third 1,250-gallon-per-minute pumper, is expected to be completed next month.
